STARTS OFF WITH FIGHT

Storm Follows a Plea for Peace and Harmony in D. A. R. Ranks.

ASSAIL REPORT ON CREDENTIALS

Story Faction Wins Victory in Getting Additions to Committee.

Washington, April 14. The Continental Congress of Daughters of the American Revolution opened today with a fight almost as soon as President General Scott had finished her address of welcome, asking for "peace and harmony." The reading of the report of the credentials committee aroused a storm and many objections to rulings of the chair.

A substitute motion providing for a new committee on which the three contending candidates for president general should have two representatives met with little recognition. The report finally was adopted. The event of the day, out of a rountine way, was President Wilson's address of welcome to the delegates late in the afternoon.

Story Supporters Win.

Supporters of Mrs. William C. Story finally won a victory by forcing to a favorable vote a motion providing that a committee of representatives of each of the three candidates for president-general should act with the credentials committee in passing upon contested delegates.

Before the continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was called to order today it was evident that a sharp fight was to mark its proceedings. The exchange of notes between Mrs. William C. Story, candidate for president of the organization, and Mrs. Matthew Scott, the retiring chief, in which the first named asked that partisan methods be abandoned, caused a stir. There were other divisions of opinion and altogether a stormy session was in prospect.

The Other Candidates.

Mrs. John Mills Horton and Mrs. Charles B. Bryan, of Memphis, are the other candidates. The congress promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the organization. More than twelve hundred state chapters are

BLANKET OF 5,000 ROSES

Covers Morgan Casket as Funeral Service for Financier is Held.

GATHERING IS A NOTABLE ONE

No Variation from Episcopal Ritual — Remains Taken to Hartford.

New York April 14.—Funeral services over the body of J. Pierpont Morgan were held at 10 o'clock this morning in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church where he had worshiped for half a century. Afterwards a special train conveyed the funeral party to Hartford for final services at the Morgan mausoleum in Cedar Hill cemtery.

Blanketed by a covering of 5,000 red roses, Mr. Morgan's favorite flower, the coffin left the Morgan library, where the body had lain in state since Friday night, shortly before 10 o'clock for the church. A vested choir of 250 voices preceded the funeral party into St. George's. Behind that choir range the clergy, then the pall bearers, the coffin and the family.

Gathering Is Notable.

Fifteen hundred persons, one of the most notable gatherings New York has seen for many years, were crowded into the church. Admission was by card only. So great had been the demand for tickets that many hundreds could not be accommodated. Not half of the congregation of St. George's, with whom Mr. Morgan had worshiped, obtained admission.

The services were conducted by Rev. Karl Reiland, rector of St. George's, the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of the diocese of Boston; the Rt. Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster, bishop of the diocese of Connecticut, and the Rt. Rev. David H. Greer, bishop of the diocese of New York. These were the clergymen chosen by Mr. Morgan in his written instructions made some time before his death. There were twelve honorary pall bearers, selected chiefly from the cluster of men closely identified with Mr. Morgan in his career. They were George S. Bowdoin, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Robert W. De Forest, Henry Fairfield Osborn, United States Senator Elihu Root, Joseph H. Choate, Robert Bacon, George F. Baker Dr. J. W. Marks, Elbert H. Gary, Seth Low and Martin W. Paton.

The chancel was banked high with floral offerings, but these were only a small part of the hundreds that have poured into the Morgan home. Most of those were left behind and will be distributed to the hospitals.

From Foreign Lands.

Among the flowers there were orchids and palm leaves from the emperor of Germany, a gold Maltese cross beneath a crown of palms from the French republic, a garland of violets and lilies of the valley from the British ambassador, a wreath of orchids from the Italian government. About fifty floral pieces were selected to be taken to Hartford.

There was no variation in the services from the Episcopal ritual. The chant from the thirty-ninth and ninetieth Psalms, "Lord, let me know my end and the number of my days," was sung as the coffin entered the church. "Asleep in

SAYS NATION APPROVES IT

President Believes Tariff Bill Wins Popular Commendation.

IT WILL NOT HARM HEALTHY BUSINESS

Favored the Reduction on Sugar Because Consumer Deserved It.

Washington, April 14.—President Wilson believes the tariff bill meets the general approval of the country; that no healthy business will be interrupted and that while in most cases the cost of living will not be immediately reduced, the consumer will feel at once the benefit of a reduction in the sugar duty.

These views were expressed today by the president in an open talk with newspaper men at the white house. He explained that his main reason for desiring a reduction on sugar was that the consumer deserves it. The president declared that arrangements by which prices were fixed would surely be made impossible when a truly competitive situation was created and that the public would get the benefit very promptly in the case of sugar, because he knew competitive elements were ready to contest.

Some Criticisms.

Criticisms, he said, had been received from some perfectly legitimate interests, contending that the cuts in their cases was more than they could at present stand.

It was suggested to the president that many democrats in congress felt that free wool would be ruinous to the woolen industry. Mr. Wilson had been trying to inform himself as much as possible on that subject, but he did not feel their fears were justified by facts. He remarked that he had heard just the other day that the price of wool was the same on both sides of the water. In connection with the sugar tariff the president was asked if he thought sugar factories, both beet and cane, could operate under free sugar.

The president said he hoped to open reciprocity negotiations with several nations soon.

Begin Second Week.

With Chairman Underwood and other administration leaders still in control of the situation, house democrats today began the second week of consideration of the new tariff bill in caucus. The market basket attracted attention of the legislators today, the agricultural schedule having been reached.

Wheat and citrus fruits were particular targets for some of the members from milling and fruit-growing states. Flour has been placed on the free list in the administration bill, while a duty of ten per cent, ad valorum is left on wheat. Representatives from milling states claim that there is a discrimination against the millers and they propose to make a fight either to put wheat on the free list or to place a compensating duty on flour. Opposition develops also to the free listing of potatoes. The senate finance committee, which resumed consideration of the bill also had the same question before it, some senators proposing to place a duty of 50 cents a barrel on flour on the basis of five bushels of wheat to the barrel.

Harrison in Charge.

Chairman Underwood's friends were inclined to minimize his illness saying he surely would be back at his desk after a few days. Today Representative Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, one of Mr. Underwood's closest lieutenants and a staunch supporter of the administration, took charge at the caucus and the work went on. There is a strong fight on in the house against the administration wool and sugar program. It is conceded on every side that the absence of Mr. Underwood gives courage to the forces opposing the proposals President Wilson favors.

POPE AGAIN SHOWS RALLY

Aged Pontiff's Condition Improves After Unfavorable Outlook.

FIND NO TRACE OF PNEUMONIA

His Holiness Has a Brief Sleep, Undisturbed by Coughing.

Rome, April 14.—At 5:20 o'clock this afternoon it was stated that the condition of the pope had remained stationary during the afternoon. His temperature had not risen, which was considered proof that there was no trace of pneumonia, and also of the certainty of the pope's recovery, unless there are complications.

In the middle of the day the pope had a short sleep, almost uninterrupted by coughing. His temperature was slightly above 98 degrees; his pulse 85 and his respiration 26.

The Early Bulletin.

The bulletin issued by the papal physicians early today reads:

"His holiness passed a tranquil night. Bronchial symptoms are reassuring. Temperature 99. General condition good.

"MARCHIAFAVA.
"AMICI."

The improvement is considered most encouraging. Last night was the seventh since the first relapse suffered by the pope and the gravest anxiety has been caused by his increasing weakness and malnutrition. It now appears that the access of coughing suffered by the pope last night greatly relieved the pontiff and enabled him to obtain a long and restful sleep.

Hopeful News Discounted.

While the bulletin issued by the pope's physicians this morning is optimistic, it leaves many incredulous that the patient really has had a turn for the better. Undoubtedly, however, there was a noticeable amelioration in the pope's condition during the night.

Rome has been thrown into depression at the announcement of this attack and many thought the pope had reached the

EIGHT CHILDREN AT COHEN'S DOOR

Drive Him to Free Father He Had Imprisoned for a Debt.

WIFE'S PLAN WORKS

New York, April 14. Louis Drucker, a ladies' tailor of Brooklyn, owes his release from jail to the appetites and lungs of his eight children. Samuel Cohen, who won a judgment for $15 against Drucker and had him sent to jail to languish for fifteen days because he refused to pay, lost the joy of his triumph a few hours later when Mrs. Drucker, wife of the imprisoned father, appeared at the Cohen home, together with her eight children, demanding that Cohen feed her family. She left her clamorous brood to howl at Cohen's door.

After an hour of this Cohen, half in pity and half in desperation, was forced to send for bread and milk to feed the children. Driven to further discomfiture by neighbors, who maliciously congratulated him on the sudden addition to his family, Cohen finally gave in and led the children home with the promise that he would get their father out of jail. He found that he could do so only by paying the costs, which amounted to $5.33. He gladly settled the bill and sent Drucker back to his family.

WEALTHY MAN SLAIN IN HOME

George Dietz is Beaten to Death With Hammer in Chicago.

LETTER MAY BE RUSE

Chicago, April 14.—George Dietz, owner of a woman's tailoring establishment, was found murdered in his home at 773 Aldine avenue early today. His head had been crushed and he is believed to have been beaten to death with a hammer which was found in the room.

A letter was found in the room indicating that revenge was the motive for the crime.

Dietz was wealthy and lived with his wife, who discovered the crime. The slayer escaped without awakening Mrs. Dietz, who occupied a separate bedroom. When questioned by the police Mrs. Dietz said the first she knew of the murder was when she went to awaken her husband.

The letter was unsigned, written on a typewriter on yellow paper and was illiterate to a degree that led the police to suspect that this feature of the crime had been planned to confuse investigators. It read in part as follows:

"I feel like a man that done right. I killed him like we kill beast. Gerley tele me all when she was sick. I work hard and he is rich man. He steal my little girl. Poor Gerley she is not bad she is foolish and like good clothes he gave her. He not think she tele me. These I wriht if I get killed young friend not done it. I not give name. If I get chance to kell old pig we all saved."

NATIONAL BANK QUITS.

Atlantic Concern at Providence, R. I., Fails to Open Its Doors.

Providence, R. I., April 14.—The Atlantic National bank did not open for business today. A notice on the door said that it had suspended payment.

According to a statement of April 9 the bank had deposits of nearly $2,300,000, a capital of $300,000 and a surplus of $120,000. The president of the bank is Percy W. Gardner, who is a lawyer, and Charles A. Wilson, head of the republican state organization. A notice posted by the National bank examiner this morning says that he has taken charge of the bank "by request of the board of directors."

MANAGER EVERS SUED.

Aftermath of Unsuccessful Shoe Venture at Chicago.

Chicago, April 14. John J. Evers, manager of the Chicago National league team, was sued for $300 today by a manufacturer of stores and office fixtures, who alleged that fixtures installed in a shoe store which Evers and Charles Williams, secretary of the Chicago Nationals, tried unsuccessfully to run here, had never been paid for.

Evers maintains in reply that he cannot be held responsible for the debts of the venture, as it was managed by a corporation.

ANYBODY PAYING FOR PROTECTION?

Vice Investigation in Chicago Will Take New Direction.

PASTOR TO LEND AID

Chicago, April 14. Whether vice flourishes in Chicago through the payment of "protection" money to public officials is to be investigated by the Illinois vice commission. The decision was reached today after Rev. Elmer Williams, pastor of Grace Methodist church, had testified he would produce women and saloonkeepers who had admitted to him they gave regular sums to police officials.

Dr. Williams agreed to furnish the names of witnesses in secret, but the testimony of the witnesses, when they are called, is to be in open session.

"One woman told me that her life wouldn't be worth anything if she revealed that she paid protection money," said Dr. Williams. "Saloonkeepers have told me similar stories."

"If it is true that politics and vice work together in Chicago the public shall hear of it," said Chairman Barrett O'Hara. "We will bring out all the facts if there are any, if it takes us two years to do it."

Dr. Williams said he attributed the downfall of many women to "male prostitutes." He said low wages among

GLOVE TOWN IS MAKING PROTEST

Thousands in Demonstration Against Proposed Cut in Tariff.

BUSINESS IS HALTED

Gloversville, N. Y., April 14.—Special trains from all parts of Fulton county brought thousands of persons to this city today to participate in a demonstration against the proposed reduction in the duty on gloves. This city is known as the "glove making center of the world."

From 12:30 o'clock this afternoon until tomorrow morning there will be practically no business transacted in the county. Every business place in Gloversville and Johnstown agreed to close shortly after noon and the employes of every mill, factory and store were assigned places in a monster parade.

Following the parade the program provided for mass meetings in four of the local theaters, at which resolutions will be passed against the Underwood tariff rates on gloves. Each mass meeting will be addressed by a member of each of the four political parties.

THINKS MARTIN IS YET ALIVE

Disappearance of American in London is Still Unsolved.

OPERA HAT IS FOUND

London, April 14. Mystery still surrounds the disappearance of Joseph W. Martin, of Memphis, Tenn., who has been missing since April 3. While the discovery of his torn pocket-book first suggested to the police that the American had been murdered and his body thrown into the Thames, they are now inclined to the theory that he is still alive and for some reason is keeping his whereabouts secret.

The opera hat which the workman who picked up the pocket book saw in the road but left there, has been turned over to the police by a boy who found it the same morning. The boy took it to work with him and it was used by him and his companion as a football and afterwards put in a horse's nose bag where it remained until this morning.

The river police continue to drag the Thames and to keep a sharp lookout for the body. All the hotels in London have been visited for evidence and the police are now making a house-to-house search among lodging and boarding houses. They are working on the theory that Martin has left the country and for purposes of his own, keeping his movements secret. The pocketbook and opera hat may have been thrown from the window of a train the police say. Expert criminals, the police believed, would have destroyed them.

The only credit Martin ever had with a London bank was exhausted on the occasion of a previous visit, but it is believed he carried credit notes.

6,900 BOYS NOW ENTERED.

Big Athletic Demonstration by New York School Boys.

New York, April 11.—The largest number of junior athletes ever in competition at one time is promised by the leaders of the public schools at Service league, in arranging for a physical training and athletic demonstration by New York school boys in Central park on June 6. With an entry list of 6,900 boys already entered it is declared that the record for an athletic field day has been broken and before the meet it is believed that the limit of ten thousand competitors will be far exceeded by the applications

LYNCH SLATED FOR PLACE.

Head of Typographical Union Will Be Public Printer.

Washington, April 12.—James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical union, with headquarters at Indianapolis, is slated for public printer. Senators Hughes and Martine and the New Jersey delegation in congress, who came to urge President Wilson today to select Cornelius N. Ford, president of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor, were told Lynch had been practically decided upon.

$600,000 NEEDED TO CLEAN DAYTON STREETS.

Columbus, Ohio, April 14.—A flood relief committee from Dayton composed of John H. Patterson, E. A. Deeds and F. T. Huffman called on Governor Cox today and presented a formal report of the conditions. The report shows that $600,000 will be required to clean the streets of Dayton. This sum does not include the cost of reconstructing public property damaged by the recent flood.

Members of the committee estimated the loss of merchandise in their city at $12,000,000. Leaf tobacco valued at $900,000 was destroyed by the flood they said.

LAST OF BIG FOUR FINANCIERS DYING

Flagler, of Standard Oil Fame, is Following Rogers, Harriman and Morgan to the Grave.

Henry M. Flagler and wife, photographed at their Palm Beach, Fla., home just before Flagler, financier, railroad magnate and boss of Florida, became ill. He is 80 years old and almost blind.

A Boy's Reason

EVEN the most pessimistic of us—those who lost the most heavily in a material way—cannot fail to see that the recent flood had its valuable lessons as well as its distressing features. It has been pointed out that at no earlier time in the history of Fort Wayne has there been such an expression of sympathy, fraternity and fellowship as that which burst into full development as soon as the calamity struck us. For this we are grateful, for its influence must remain.

In another public way it has solved probably the great question of what to do with our rivers in the scheme of improvement and beautification.

The flood has pointed out to us our negligence and shortcomings in many ways.

With these thoughts in mind, a certain teacher of a class of boys in one of the downtown Sunday schools sought to learn which of these great truths had sunk the most deeply into the minds and lives of the lads.

So the question was put. The boys looked at each other in hesitation.

"Oh," said one, fluttering his hand in the atmosphere, "I know how it did some good."

"Well?"

"Why, when the rivers overflowed it made all the lawns and gardens and farms more fertile than before, just like the Nile does."

"I can."

"Well," responded the teacher, "that might be one reason. Can anyone else give another reason?"

"I can," responded another lad.

"All right, tell us what it is."

"Why," was the response, "when the water ran through the houses it washed 'em all clean and nice."

SEVEN DEAD IN WRECK OF TRAIN

Accident Overtakes Land Excursion Party Near Montreal.

MANY ARE INJURED

Montreal, April 14.—Seven persons are dead and fifteen were injured as the result of the derailment of an excursion train yesterday afternoon on the Montreal-Chambly branch of the Central Vermont railway, about four and a half miles out of St. Lambert.

The train was carrying about 700 passengers who had taken advantage of the free trip given by a real estate firm to prospective purchasers of lots at Albain sub-division, and was returning to Montreal at a speed of between 20 and 30 miles, when from some cause as yet unknown, the engine and the three first coaches left the rails.

The telescoping of the ends of the derailed coaches caused most of the fatalities, nearly all of which occurred in the first two cars. Escaping steam from the boiler of the locomotive which was thrown over on its side filled the coaches and hampered passengers in escaping.

The passengers from other cars formed a rescue brigade and worked hard to extricate the dead and injured from the wreckage. Their efforts were fruitless in the case of some of the victims, whose bodies were so firmly wedged in the shattered remains of the coaches that it took a wrecking crew hours to release them. The dead are:

J. MOSES, fireman, Montreal.
J. LACOSTE, Montreal.
MARGARET DEER, 10 years old, Point St. Charles.
MARTIN WHITE, Montreal.
Three unidentified men.

As the train was crowded, many persons were standing on the platforms and many of these were killed or injured. Between the first and second coaches two bodies were crushed, one being that of Maggie Deer.

This little girl's mother, herself slightly injured in the accident, stood near the rescuers for hours as they tried to extricate the child's body and pleaded pitifully with them to hurry their work. The accident is supposed to have been caused by spreading rails.

women was a contributing cause. After J. W. Shemberg, a saloonkeeper, had testified he had information that a juvenile worker of a social settlement organization was paid "protection money," and the commission ordered the accused juvenile officer subpoenaed. Opinions that the "turkey trot," the "tango" and similar dances were "just what people made them," was expressed by witnesses before the Illinois vice commission today. Roy J. Jones, whose license as a safe proprietor was revoked because of dances permitted by him in his place, testified he saw no objection to that form of amusement.

"You consider those dances an art?" Jones was asked.

"Well, they are artful if not art. It depends largely on what people make them."

Jones agreed to eliminate suggestive dancing from his place if he were permitted to resume business. He said dancing and cabaret shows were the result of competition between cafes and if all "Tango" dancing was prohibited the cafes still would prosper.

FOREIGNER TORE UP HIS SAVINGS

Had $43 in Bills and Made An Attempt to Destroy It.

HELD A FEW DAYS

A foreigner listed at police headquarters as Alex Schultz, but evidently a Slav, tore $43 into small bits in his cell at police station today and threw it into a drain, where it was found by police officers, who may be able to have most of it redeemed by the federal government.

Schultz arrived in Fort Wayne Saturday and visited the rolling mills district and early today he pushed open a saloon door that had been held closed by a beer keg and walked in. The proprietor held him at the point of a gun and he was turned over to the police.

In the city court today he told a rambling story and it was decided to hold him until Thursday, as Judge Mungovan didn't think his mind was in good working order. He refused to turn over his money to the police when he was sent to his cell and he afterwards tried to destroy it. He is evidently unbalanced.

Will Test the Right.

The police insist that Sheriff Gladieux has no right to give Jack Case permission to carry a gun and the matter will be tested in the city court.

Reports coming from the east end for several days indicated the presence of a prowler of the Case type and when Bert Smith found him on Madison street he sent him in. A gun, badge and club were found on him and he gave $50 bond for his appearance and said the sheriff has given him the right to carry weapons.

The Other Cases.

Clarence Hahn used some highly insulting language in a Calhoun street store Saturday night and complaints by saleswomen caused his arrest. He got $25 and costs.

Barney Hoffinger entered a plea of guilty to the charge of profanity and was fined $1 and costs.

Jeff Myers, Rudy Gerberding, James Daily, James McNamara, Samuel Buckley and Martin Duffy, plain drunks, were let go.

Steve Conners was real tough when he was landed for drunkenness and he got $1 and costs, and the cases of James R. Smith and Frank Parker, arrested for securing meals under misrepresentations, were held over until tomorrow.

William Baughman and Elmer Roach, boys about 18, had a little fight and were up for disorderly conduct. The judge made them shake hands, promise to quit fighting and let them go.

Davy Blum and Daniel Hatfield, picked off a Nickel Plate freight train, were allowed to go back to their home at Claypool.

STRIKE AGAINST PLURAL VOTE ON

At Least 250,000 Belgian Workmen Quit Places to Enforce Right.

ACTION IS PEACEFUL

Brussels, April 14.—The political strike planned by the Belgian solicial trade unions, began at dawn today. The first workmen to take part in the movement were the night shifts of the mines and mills throughout the country. They left the various plants in charge of a few caretakers, told off by the socialist leaders to keep the property from deteriorating.

At least 250,000 men laid down their tools during the morning. There were numerous exceptions to the general walk out in many districts, however. The effect of the strike is scarcely discernible in some localities. In Brussels itself the strike must be looked for in order to be found. Probably one-fourth of the workmen engaged in the suburban factories did not report for work today. The socialist committee here estimated at 11 o'clock that 20,000 men had struck in the capital.

Reports from the provinces tell of complete or nearly complete stoppage of work at Liege, Charleroi, Mons, La Louviere and smaller cities. At Mons there are 40,000 strikers and at La Louviere 26,000, most of them belonging to the metal, carriage-building and tobacco trades.

At the great seaport of Antwerp, the strike did not appear until late in the day and then only affected a part of the dock laborers.

HEAD OF COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Five Candidates Now Qualified to Hold the Office.

It is probable there will be only five candidates for the office of county superintendent of schools of Allen county at the election which is to be held on Tuesday, April 22, when the township trustees of the county meet in Fort Wayne to the office. Two of these previously possessed the necessary legal qualifications. The other three recently took examinations and they were notified Monday by the state school superintendent, who graded their papers, that they had passed at grades qualifying them to hold the office of county school superintendent.

Te ..ve candidates for the office will be: Paul Wilkie of Wayne township, D. O. McComb, formerly of Perry township, now clerk in the county auditor's office; Fred L. Smith, superintendent of the Harlan schools; A. R. Parker, superintendent of the Monroeville schools; Nathan W. ●il, superintendent of the Roanoke schools. All are experienced teachers and have taught school for a number of years.

Companion Court, Order of Foresters, will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas DeHaven, 1328 Union street.

DEATH COMES TO GEORGE COLLINS

Retired Farmer and Vetern of Mexican War Passes Away.

WAS WIDELY KNOWN

George Collins, eighty-two years of age, a pioneer farmer of Allen county and a veteran of the Mexican war, died at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Rochus hospital after a prolonged illness due to complications. # HAS SCHEME FOR A HAPPIER NAVY

Plans to Promote Better Health and Efficiency Among "The Boys."

MORE SHORE LEAVE

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Mr. Daniels, secretary of the navy, is hard at work on a scheme for improving the contentment of the blue jackets in the navy. He believes that with this would come increased efficiency and far greater results. It is the secretary's present idea to make the life of the enlisted man more pleasant. The council of aids and the surgeon general of the navy, Charles J. Stokes, tentatively have made a few recommendations seeking better health conditions in the navy. A few of them are:

Basing on Narragansett bay throughout a good portion of 1913 for drills, manoeuvres and overhaul at anchor.

A cruise of divisions or sections to the Mediterranean, with an alternative cruise to South American and West Indian ports.

Such divisional cruising as will permit ships to visit other than home ports.

A definite allowance, announced in advance, of an average of a week's overhaul at anchor for a week under way.

The announcement of definite leave for officers and men, amounting to thirty days each year, to be distributed between the overhaul period and Christmas holidays.

Thirty days' leave to officers and men, to be distributed between overhaul period and Christmas holidays.

Provide a large recreation building for the men at Guantanamo.

Ships to visit other than their repair ports some time during the year.

A cruise to foreign ports other than West Indian waters, to be made as often as consistent with the work of the fleet.

Regarding this Mr. Daniels said:

"We must have contentment in the navy. The personnel cannot be efficient if it is not contented. I hope to definitely pass upon some of the recommendations made by the council of aids and the surgeon general very soon."

Sale Made and Confirmed and New Company is All Ready.

OTHER COURT CASES

George B. Sheldon, former treasurer of the republican national committee, and one of the men who appeared before the congressional committee that investigated the expenditures, was the only bidder today when the property of the Toledo and Chicago Interurban Railway company was offered for sale at the east door of the court house by James D. Mortimer, receiver.

He made one bid of $550,000, no others were made and as he had deposited a certified check for $50,000 and complied with all the requirements of the court, the property was declared his. Mr. Sheldon is chairman of the bondholders' committee and represented them in the action.

In the meantime Hon. W. L. Taylor has tucked away in the inside pocket of his new cutaway coat an order confirming the sale and this was entered of record. The traction property will go to the Fort Wayne and Northwestern Traction company, organized Saturday at Indianapolis, with Mr. Taylor, Fred Zollars, Elmer Leonard, James H. Rose and L. M. Pritchard as incorporators.

A mortgage for a little more than a million and a half will be recorded and the present bondholders will be common stockholders in lieu of their bonds. For the present the new company, which is really an organization of the men who hold the bonds, will operate the road and while there has been some talk of extensions, nothing definite has been done and the new company's prime object is to protect the men who hold the bonds.

DRAIN RESERVOIR FOR PENITENTIARY

A Novel Scheme for Reclamation of Lands of Big Artificial Lake in Ohio.

St. Mary's, Ohio, April 14.—The drainage of the big reservoir located in this and Mercer counties, best known as "the grand reservoir," the largest artificial body in the world, and the reclamation of the land by convict labor for the location there of a new penitentiary, where convicts can be employed in the open, is the plan proposed by Safety Director Mooney to Gov. Cox through his brother, State Senator Dan F. Mooney of St. Mary's.

In a communication to the senator the safety director, Mr. Mooney, says the drainage of the reservoir would open up a tract of land covering 17,000 acres, nine miles long and five miles wide. "The present site of the penitentiary," he says, "could be sold for more than enough to pay for the drainage of the grand reservoir and the construction of a modern penitentiary."

"We further report to the court upon our investigation into the commission of crime in said county, as we were instructed by the court, that we find as a disadvantage to such investigation two classes of undesirable citizens, to wit: One class who by word of mouth or by print in the newspapers says or prints things as positively untrue, when in truth and fact they know nothing about what they say or print. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

The President in Control

While it is always unwise to sum up results before the battle is over, the developments of the first week of tariff action in the extra session of congress must be encouraging to those who believe in President Wilson, and who are expecting definite results along lines the president has mapped out. It is much too early to foretell the precise status of the new tariff bill when it shall finally reach President Wilson for signature, but the one thing thus far demonstrated is the apparently strong control over the situation held by the president. In the tests thus far with the reactionary element and with the sectional representatives who are seeking to modify the tariff bill to favor the particular interests most largely represented in their individual districts, the result has been a clean-cut victory for the administration in its announced plan to redeem party pledges. The week has brought some new revelations of Wilson's power, of his predilection for decisive clean-cut action, and of his ability to carry through his propositions. He has demonstrated that he can command not only attention but compliance, and if there has been any suspicion that in treating with the president, congress would find itself dealing with a weakling or a dodger, the suspicion is fast fading. Mr. Wilson is doubtless not always right, and he cannot always evade error, but he is certainly making a most admirable start in the effort to get into working order the views and policies upon which the people placed an emphatic O. K. in November. President Wilson plainly has a firm grip on the situation down to the present moment.

Reorganization which is planned to follow the sale of the Toledo and Chicago interurban railway is so comprehensive in its scope as to provide for a very material augmentation of interurban facilities for Fort Wayne, including connections which will give direct electric lines into Toledo and Chicago. The experience of the T. & C. line, doing a business that has appeared to be uniformly flourishing, seems to demonstrate again the contention of electric railway men that these tremendous factors in modern convenience can be made profitable only as a part of some large system. We trust the new Fort Wayne and Northwestern may grow into a large and successful institution in the electric railway system of Indiana.

With the same promptness that has always actuated him in looking after the affairs of his district, Congressman Cline has done some effective work in Washington during the past week in calling attention to the recent flood conditions here, and in enlisting governmental aid in solving the problem of prevention. Congressman Cline has been assured that the Fort Wayne situation will be included in the investigation to be made by the army engineers.

Under a new plan of work just adopted by the state health board, the pure food and drug inspectors are hereafter to be health police in Indiana, and they will be sent to any part of the state in response to complaints of unsanitary conditions which come under the jurisdiction of the state health department. Well, "health police" is a rather more impressive title than the old one, anyway.

Dispatches from Terre Haute are heralding as real news the fact that the city now has hopes of an absolutely fair municipal election this year. In the face of an outlook that has at times been most discouraging, we have always insisted that there was still some grounds for hope for that town.

PRESS COMMENT ON 17TH AMENDMENT.

"Most Radical Amendment."

Philadelphia Inquirer: "This is by far the most radical amendment which ever has been made to the fundamental law. Alone among all of the seventeen it vitally changes the principle of government."

"Legislatures Must Act."

Boston Globe: "As a number of states will elect senators in 1914 it seems inevitable that their legislatures must act at an early date and provide the necessary legislation."

"Blow Has Been Struck."

New York Times: "By their own vote a blow has been struck at the dignity and good name of the several states comprising the union. They have decided that they cannot elect legislators fit to choose their representatives as states, in the federal congress."

"Experiment."

Brooklyn Eagle: "The experiment now to be tried is not to be commended in advance. The outgoing system had produced the most dignified body of lawmakers on earth."

"More Conscious."

Philadelphia Record: "It is quite likely that senators elected by the people directly, and especially if nominated by direct primaries, would be more conscious of their accountability to the rank and file of the voters than those elected by legislatures."

"Choosing Legislatures."

New York Evening Post: "It is not too much to hope that we shall, before long, acquire the habit of choosing members of our legislatures on the basis of state issues and the personal merits of candidates, instead of following party labels and playing into the hands of machine politicians."

"People's Own Fault."

Worcester Gazette: "With the seventeenth amendment a fact, if the people are not well represented in the elective branches of their national government, it is their own fault."

THE HIGHEST EDUCATION.

To its fine record of usefulness the University of Wisconsin is about to add a service the greatest of all. It is planning to teach people how to live.

Each year Wisconsin loses 10,000 citizens in deaths due to preventable diseases, while 50,000 other citizens suffer pain and labor loss from illnesses which wouldn't be if people were well informed and careful. Experts tell us that fifteen years are chipped off the average life span just because most of us haven't learned how to live. The dollar cost of this needless sickness and dying is reckoned at $50,000,000 a year for Wisconsin alone; throughout the nation it runs into billions.

For years the University of Wisconsin has been issuing bulletins on how to fight hog cholera and bovine tuberculosis and glanders; on how to prevent wheat rust. Now it intends to organize the trained minds at its command in a campaign for human health.

It will study the diseases peculiar to its state, and in simple language, tell folks the facts and the remedies.

It will re-enforce local boards of health.

It will send health commissioners broadcast.

It will teach nursing in person and by mail.

It hopes to build up this part of its extension work to the point where it will be possible for every resident of the state to go regularly before one of its health experts and have a thorough examination, thus detecting trouble at its approach which, of course, would be much more sensible than to put off the doctoring until the disease had got a long start.

If, in time to come, our doctors, instead of working by piece-rate, shall become paid agents of the state, hired not to attend the sick, but to watch the well, it will be a logical outgrowth of this new university program. For surely the highest education is to learn how to live.

RECALL AT ITS WORST.

(New York World.)

The law department of the state of Missouri ousted the Standard Oil company from the state. It won notable victories in state and federal courts. It was unsparing of time, labor and money. It was inspired by the idea that in banishing a great offender from the state in obedience to law it was performing a public service.

Yet, when judgment was passed and it was represented that the monopoly's discomfiture would inflict a hardship upon a few of its employes, the legislature was persuaded to pass a law nullifying the action of the courts and extending to the oil company once more the freedom of the state by Governor Major's most righteous veto the enactment has been defeated.

In the annals of the recall of judicial decrees this performance should have a conspicuous place. If the people or their representatives are so anxious to upset the courts that they will array themselves on the side of Standard Oil, what may be looked for next?

VOICE JOY AT KING'S ESCAPE

Spanish People Salute Alfonso After Attempt on His Life.

TAKES RIDE IN PARK

Madrid, April 14.—King Alfonso of Spain, took a ride to a park this morning and was warmly saluted by the crowds who noisily expressed their joy that the king had escaped the bullets fired by the anarchist, Rafael Allegro, yesterday.

Allegro was still in merry mood today. During his examination he forced the guards surrounding him and the interrogating magistrates to laugh at his witty comments. Inquiries made by the police in Barcelona show that Allegro was recently rejected from the Spanish military service owing to his suffering from nervous attacks. He had been frequently without employment. His wife, it was learned today, is a woman of noble birth.

KING ALFONSO.

Three Shots Fired.

Three shots were fired at the king yesterday afternoon in the streets of the capital by a native of Barcelona, Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who was immediately overpowered.

King Alfonso owes his escape to his own courage, quickness and skilled horsemanship. Accompanied by his staff he was riding along the Calle de Alcala, returning from the ceremony of swearing in recruits, when a man sprang from the sidewalk and seized the bridle of the king's horse with one hand, presenting a revolver point blank with the other.

The king, realizing the situation, with lightning rapidity dug his spurs into his horse, which reared violently. His quickness saved his life. The bullet, instead of burying itself in the king's breast, struck the horse on the neck but so close was it that the king's left hand glove was blackened by the powder discharge.

In Desperate Struggle.

Before the assailant was able to pull the trigger again a secret service man sprang upon him. The two men fell to the ground locked in each others arms, struggling furiously. The assassin managed to free his revolver arm and fired two more shots in rapid succession, but the officer knocked his arm aside and the bullets flew harmlessly through the air.

At the sound of the first shot the king's staff forced their horses on the sidewalk and made a ring around the assassin, who fought fiercely in the grip of four policemen before he was overpowered and handcuffed.

King Alfonso, as soon as he saw that the man had been secured, raised himself in the stirrups, turned to the crowd, gave a military salute and shouted in a ringing voice: "Long live Spain." He then dismounted and reassured his staff, saying: "It is nothing, gentlemen."

Then uprose a mighty roar from the wildly enthusiastic masses which rolled along in great waves of sound, all the way as the king rode to the palace, cool, collected and smiling.

Would Lynch Allegro.

The crowd made a determined attempt to lynch Allegro, who was rushed into a house and kept there until an auto ambulance, escorted by mounted police, transferred him to police headquarters.

King Alfonso was first to tell of what he lightly called the "incident which caused delay" to Queen Victoria and the dowager queen, Maria Christina, who were greatly alarmed. The king smilingly allayed their fears.

He had hardly been back in the palace ten minutes when an immense clamor arose. The two squares on which the palace looks were black with people of all classes, desirous of showing their joy at the king's safety and their admiration for his bravery. The king went to the balcony and acknowledged the cheers and then sought the queen and the two stood bowing to the throngs for several minutes.

The police investigations have established that Allegro was recently expelled from France as an anarchist, after which he went to Barcelona. He came to Madrid a month ago and obtained employment in a carpenter shop. He worked there until Friday.

It is said that during his first examination Allegro declared that on seeing the king pass he was seized with a sudden evil impulse and having a revolver in his pocket drew it out. Driven on by an irresistible force he sprang forward and fired.

A woman said to be associated with Allegro was arrested last night.

King Describes It.

King Alfonso thus described the attempt against his life:

"I had reached the corner of the Calle de Alcala, opposite the house of the Marquis de Cuba, when I saw a man come out of the crowd with his hand inside his coat. He attempted to seize the bridle of my horse and while I failed to follow exactly what happened he fired two revolver shots in my direction.

"At the second shot my horse reared on his hind legs and, backing hastily, upset my assailant. Immediately two of my private policemen jumped on the man, who yet managed to fire a third shot, wounding a policeman. I then dismounted and found that my horse was only slightly hurt. A bullet had grazed him over the saddle girth. I remounted and returned to the palace."

RELIEF STOCK TO THE COURT HOUSE

High Water Union Established in Office of Trustee H. E. Branning.

THE NEW COMMITTEE

Beginning this morning, the work of the Fort Wayne High Water Relief association is being conducted from the office of Township Trustee Henry E. Branning. The union gave up the headquarters in the Lincoln Life building, on Berry street, Sunday evening, and as long as there is any demand for relief on the part of flood sufferers in Fort Wayne, their wants will be supplied from Mr. Branning's office in the court house.

All of the clothing, shoes, underwear, provisions and other articles have been taken to the trustee's office, but there is scarcely any demand for provisions today. Arrangements have been made by County Commissioner W. C. Schwier for a separate room in the court house adjoining the trustee's office, and the relief stock of goods will be kept there.

The fact that the original headquarters has been abandoned does not mean in any sense that the relief work is to but cut down. All who need aid need not be timid in asking for it and those who apply will not be classed as paupers of the type usually applying for aid from the township. The relief work will be a separate institution, with a fund of money on hand which has been donated by the citizens of Fort Wayne and other cities, and the business men, for the purpose of aiding the unfortunates whose homes were damaged and who need help.

Teachers, ministers, church societies, lodge and charitable organizations of the city are asked to co-operate with the relief workers and report cases of need to the trustee. Investigations will be made of the cases reported and services of the police force will be used in determining whether or not those who apply really need help. A committee to assist with the work has been named and its members are Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Mahler, Judge J. Frank Mungovan, and Mrs. William H. Noll. Those who contributed to the relief fund will also be consulted from time to time for suggestions in the use of the fund held by City Controller W. S. Cutshall. There is a balance on hand of approximately $6,000. More than $5,000 of the total $11,000 has already been spent in buying provisions.

With the announcement that the headquarters would close there was a large call for supplies Sunday. A great number of cases were taken care of and others were investigated by Secretary Harry Kaufmann and his assistants. Mr. Kaufman and other employes of the Indiana Lighting company, who were given leave of absence from their duties to take care of the relief work, returned to their offices this morning for the first time since the flood.

LONG RACE OVER SNOW EXCITING

Delezene is Acclaimed as He Drives Dogs Into Nome a Winner.

412 MILES—75 HOURS

Nome, Alaska, April 14.—The 412 miles all-Alaska sweepstakes dog race over the snow from Nome to Candle and return, which ended yesterday in a victory for Fay Delezene driving his own team, was one of the most exciting ever run in the north.

It began Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and ended when Delezene crossed the line at 12:18 yesterday afternoon in the fast time of 75 hours 18 minutes. Delezene, who had trailed John Johnson, with his Siberian wolves all the way until the last few hours, was wildly welcomed when he drove into Nome with all his racers on their feet. Two thousand people, virtually the entire winter population of Nome, had assembled on the snow close to the finish. All of Delezene's dogs were in excellent condition and showed little effect of the long drive over the snow. The last 140 miles of the course had been made without a stop for rest.

Johnson unlike the victorious driver, was worn out when he crossed the line and claimed second money. His dogs were not in good condition, two of them being carried on the sled. Johnson also drove the last 140 miles without stopping. A. A. (Scotty) Allan, who won last year's race in 87 hours and 32 minutes and the 1911 race in 81 hours and 40 minutes, came in with his dogs in good shape. Allan was the favorite in the betting but ran third most of the way. Tommy Illuyok, a native driver, who was the fourth contestant, did not finish, having fallen thirty miles behind yesterday.

The purse of $5,000 was divided sixty per cent to the winner, 25 per cent to second and 15 per cent to the third place. The official time was: Delezene, 75 hours 18 minutes; Johnson, 77 hours 40 minutes; Allan, 78 hours 50 minutes.

WHO SAID WOMEN WERE AFRAID? MRS. TOM PROVES HERSELF BRAVE IN BATTLE FOR HER HUSBAND.

MRS. TOM WALDEN.

BERRYVILLE, Ark., April 14.—When Mrs. Tom Walden, wife of the Carrol county sheriff, saw her husband lying prostrate on the floor of the county jail and eight maddened prisoners making an effort to escape and free a condemned murderer, what do you suppose she did?

Well, this is what she did:

She grabbed her fallen husband's six-shooter, forced every prisoner at the point of the gun to return to his cell. Then she dragged her husband outside the room, locked the door and sent for help.

Mrs. Walden was in the living apartments of the jail when she heard a thud on the floor below. Her husband had just left her to deliver a belated meal to a prisoner. Within the past month two attempts had been made by the inmates to saw their way out of jail. Both attempts were detected by the sheriff and the offenders were placed in solitary confinement. This caused much ill feeling among the prisoners and for several days they had been unruly.

Realizing that something unusual had happened in the jail below Mrs. Walden fled down a flight of stairs and arrived in the jail just in time to see Merle Smith, a prisoner, attempt to raise a chair post to again strike the unconscious man.

"Coward," cried Mrs. Walden as she leaped to her husband's side and grabbed his gun from its holster in a twinkling.

"The first man who takes a step toward me will die," she said, flourishing the big weapon.

There was a snap in her expression and fire blazed from her eyes. Not a man moved until Mrs. Walden commanded them to go to their cells. They went.

A prisoner confessed to the sheriff that the attack was part of a plot whereby Odus Davidson, under sentence of death, hoped to escape. Davidson was recently convicted on a charge of killing Miss Ella Barham, pretty daughter of a farmer of Pleasant Ridge. One night last november her dismembered body was found in a hog pen. She had been knocked from her pony in broad daylight and choked to death. Her body was cut to pieces with an ax and saw.

The prisoner making the confession said it was arranged that Smith should beat the sheriff unconscious or kill him and then take his keys and open Davidson's cell.

AWAIT RETURN OF MR. FLEMING

Much Interest in His Decision as to Making Race for Mayor.

PRIMARY IS JUNE 27

In spite of the fact that the date for the municipal primary has been definitely set for June 27, but little political activity has been manifested today. Much interest centers about the announcement to be made by Senator S. B. Fleming on his return from New York regarding the effort to induce him to enter the mayoralty race.

Friends of the senator are firm in their belief that they can induce him to campaign for the nomination. The only thing lacking, however, is Mr. Fleming's consent to enter municipal politics. Some declare that he will be a candidate, while others say that in previous discussions he told them that he would not attempt to land the mayoralty nomination. As a result of this peculiar situation, all are waiting for Mr. Fleming's return from New York City. Announcement was made today that he would be home either Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Fix Primary Date.

Responding to a call by City Clerk W. T. Jeffries, Lee J. Hartzell, representing the progressives, and William Freuchteniecht as a representative of the democrats, met last Saturday afternoon, qualified to serve as election commissioners and selected June 27 as the date for the primaries. Mr. Hartzell was elected president of the board and Mr. Jeffries will act as secretary.

With the definite date set, those who have already announced their candidacy for nomination will in a short time begin their campaign work. Thus far the democrats have three candidates for mayor, Albert E. Melching, Peter A. Braun and William J. Hosey. Many believe that as soon as Mr. Fleming returns his candidacy will be announced and anticipate a hot campaign.

Frank Schramm, a well known democrat residing on Erie street, has announced himself as a candidate for nomination for the city council representing the Eighth ward. W. G. Overdear and A. C. Bieberich want the clerkship nomination on the democratic ticket. It is said that Gus Boerger will be another democratic candidate for city clerk, but his candidacy has not been announced.

Mrs. Schumacher's Tea Room.

Mrs. John Schumacher, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Welden, gave a tea on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock in her new place in West Wayne street. The exceedingly pretty decoration and furnishings of the rooms, the dumtiness of appointments and the excellence of coffee, tea and sandwiches served, all contributed to the enjoyment of the guests and there was no suggestion of the business side of the "tea," unless one took a peep into the salesroom, where cases filled with home-baked goods tempted the housewives present to empty their purses. Mrs. F. I. Brown lent assistance to Mrs. Schumacher in the duties of hostess. Snapdragon blossoms and pink roses made an appropriate and harmonious decoration to the tables and were in keeping with the gray and white walls and wicker furnishings with chintz upholstering. The place is on a more elaborate scale than any shop of the kind opened in this city before.

A CHIMNEY-CORNER FRIEND IS WORTH ALL ELSE, AND "HOME-KEEPING HEARTS ARE HAPPIEST

My Dear Eleanor:

Dinner at night is an excellent habit when the husband has a long ride from business. It makes him feel that he is sharing the chief feast of the day, which it is most proper he should. Then he has time afterward to hear a little music, and that is restful. But if you, dear young wife, are making night dinner simply a stepping stone to social activities, you are doing wrong. You say you are dull, but that is not excuse enough.

So soon as an evening dinner hour is set, with its festive accompaniments, there is danger ahead. The wife with health and spirits is likely to drag her husband out. She feels that both are in shape to go, and what a pity not to take advantage of it! If the place of amusement is at all far, there is a long car ride first, with a hurry later to get home before the last car stops running.

If your husband afforded a cab when he was courting you he cannot do it now, if his income is what I understand it to be. I cannot wonder that he demurs at going out evenings; but I do wonder that you can insist upon his taking you. Once a week is often enough, for a man must work hard to support his wife where he gains even an ordinary living. Easy work and high pay do not belong to the average lot.

How will you manage about little Helen? The young person you employ to stay in your absence is only a substitute, you know, and you are missed. If you ask the domestic to remain with the youngster, then you do very wrong, for she is entitled to her recreation time.

Perhaps your husband worries you to go home before a festivity is half over. Then, rest assured, if he is uneasy about the child, he thinks you ought to be.

Resist the temptation to invite more of a company than you otherwise would. A tired man cannot play host as well as a rested one, and besides a surfeit of anything is bad policy, aside from growing tiresome. One evening a week when a small group of congenial persons can expect a welcome and refreshment is a happy institution; whereas the dear 500 friends constantly under foot are a drain on nerves and purse and belong to fair weather only.

One chimney corner friend is worth all these put together; and the fireside which has not a chair always in readiness for him or her is forlorn indeed.

Watch lest your family life go to pieces on the rock of dinner at night. It can be, however, a most invigorating repast, surety for a sound night's sleep. Make it so! With the same love,

WINNIE LEE.

AT THE TEMPLE

Starting today the Temple will play three shows daily at 2:30, 7:30 and 9 with a spring schedule of prices playing the same big Orpheum and Keith vaudeville with daily dime matinees. This is the greatest bargain ever known in the history of Fort Wayne theatricals.

The Great Asahi assisted by the Asahi Quintet, coming here direct from their success at the Majestic theater, Chicago, last week, will head the big bill. The act is said to far excel any exhibition of its kind that ever migrated from the "Flowery Kingdom." They perform some wonderfully clever stunts in magic but the greatest feature of the act is the "Human Fountain," a spectacular bit of work in which the Great Asahi has the ability to cause a stream of water to spout up almost anywhere, from his fan or any part of the floor, from the head, hands and feet of other members of the troupe or any place at which he points. The act is wonderfully staged and the setting includes the famous $4,000 curtain, which is all hand embroidered and presents a splendid appearance when blended with the beautiful light effects. Other good things on the bill will be Harry Beresford and company of six presenting "In Old New York," an episode of the east side; Roland Carter and company in the big laughing hit, "Vacation Time;" Harry Dio's Circus, with its wonderful dogs, monkeys, ponies and mules; the well known entertainers, Fred Hamill and Chas. Abbott, "The Singer and the Violinist;" Casey and Smith in their latest laughing success, "The New Musician;" the Temple concert orchestra and the Temple motion pictures, showing the world's current events, completes the week's big bargain offering.

AT THE JEFFERSON

The offering at the Jefferson is an Imp, "Blood Will Tell," and the Gaumont Weekly, giving all the live news events of the world and the new fall styles for ladies, also a reproduction of "September Morn," the picture the Chicago reformers wanted withdrawn from the art gallery.

Tuesday a special Bison in three reels, entitled "War." In this picture are hundreds of soldiers, horses and cannon. On Wednesday, by special request, we will show the flood motion pictures in addition to the regular show.

REFUSE TO RETURN FEES.

Howard County Commissioners Say New Law Is Not Clear.

Kokomo, Ind., April 14.—That the act passed by the last legislature, legalizing the return to the saloon men of Kokomo of license money for the period in which the privilege of operating was denied them, is defective, is the opinion of the board of commissioners of Howard county. The license money, after it was paid into the country treasury, was distributed to the school corporations. The act directing the rebating of the money simply states that it shall be refunded. It does not say it shall be paid out of the general fund. The commissioners are without authority, they say, to pay it out of the fund, and refuse to allow the saloon men's claims. When the money was distributed to the school corporations it passed out of the control of the commissioners.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Henrietta Crosman in "The Real Thing" This Evening.

With Henrietta Crosman in "The Real Thing," in which play she will come to the Majestic tonight, is Albert Brown, who played the leading comedy part in the New York company of "Seven Days" for two years. Mr. Brown was with Miss Crossman in her production of "Sham" and was selected for "Seven Days" because of his work in Miss Crosman's company. "The Real Thing," in which Mr. Brown plays the leading comedy role, is described as an "every day comedy," which means that it appeals to everybody. It is said to be a most cleverly constructed play and one fully worthy of Miss Crosman's talents. Because of the great success, both financially and artistically, last year, Miss Crosman has decided to use it again this season. This is the first time in the history of her career as a successful star that she has considered a play of sufficient merit to use the second season, preferring to give the public a new play each year.

Donald Brian in "The Siren" Coming Wednesday.

Although the new musical comedy that Charles Frohman will present at the Majestic Wednesday serves as the vehicle for the debut of Donald Brian as a star, the title of the production does not refer to that clever young artist. In "The Siren" the name role is that of a young woman who is utilized by her uncle, the minister of police, to lure the hero on to his destruction. In fact this particular siren is a sort of delightful woman detective and it does not interfere with the continuity of the story because she ultimately becomes the hero's bride.

"The Siren" is by Leo Stein and A. M. Willner, the music by Leo Fall and the English version of the libretto is by Harry B. Smith.

Leo Fall, composer, has to his credit, besides "The Dollar Princess," in which Mr. Brian was seen here last year, "The Girl in the Train," in which Frank Daniels starred last year; "The Doll Girl," to which Mr. Frohman has the rights; "Fair Risetta," "A Jolly Peasant" and others of success.

Mr. Frohman has not depended altogether upon the beauty of the music of "The Siren" or the cleverness and attractiveness of the star, for the supporting company is one of unusual excellence and includes such artists as Carroll McComas, Ethel Cadman, Will West and others. The chorus is an unusually large and attractive one, recruited from among the cleverest and most attractive members of Mr. Frohman's American and English companies.

AT THE EMPRESS

The "Colonial Cavaliers" headlining the new Empress show this week offer one of the most gorgeous spectacles yet presented by vaudeville. Not only in a scenic way is this act superior to the rest, but in the matter of costuming does it surpass. Eleven people are used in the presentation of the spectacle, each peculiarly equipped for their respective part. There are vocal solos and duets, various combinations of brass and string instruments, popular and heavier numbers being happily intermingled, so that the varying tastes of the audience will likely be suited in every case. The entire act runs without so much as a suggestion of "stage." There is such a naturalness about it all, one number following another in rapid succession.

George Richards and company of two are finding mighty appreciative audiences for their laughable skit, called "Easy Money." There is a marked absence of any "horse-play" in this delightful little comedy, the fun being of the legitimate sort, the cleverness of the players being depended upon to "put them across" so to speak.

Sampson and Douglass furnish another period of clean cut comedy, singing, talking and dancing. The act is bright and new, replete with surprises. Miss Douglass shows some pretty dresses.

Golden and West please with their dancing and the Savoys and their acrobatic bull dogs, deserve a prize for introducing something really new with dogs. There is not an old trick in the entire routine.

An interesting motion picture shows President Wilson reviewing a baby parade. It is an interesting and finely colored subject.

AT THE LYRIC.

At the Lyric today the big two reel Bronco spectacular military and naval production is holding the boards. This is a powerful dramatic story of love and war and is full of romance and sensation. Hal Peters, a loyal southern boy, loves Grace Carson, daughter of the light house keeper. His rival, John Adams, is an officer at West Point. When the war breaks out Adams ostensibly resigns his commission and enters the southern army, but is secretly a spy for the union forces. The confederates plan to land a cargo from a blockade runner, and Adams notifies the union soldiers, who plant a cannon at the water's edge and sink the ship. Peters discovers Adams' treachery and in a terrible hand to hand struggle is hurled over the cliff, and is found and revived by the light house keeper, who takes a shot at Adams and brings him down as he is escaping in a row boat.

AT 2:15 A. M. TOMORROW WIDOWS OF TITANIC DEAD WILL STREW FLOWERS ON WATERS WHERE THEIR HUSBANDS SANK.

At 2:15 a. m. tomorrow Mrs. Jacques Futrelle and other widows of men who were drowned in the awful Titanic disaster, will scatter flowers over the sea at the place where the great ship sank with her precious cargo of living human beings, April 15, 1912.

There were 2,358 people on board. The dead numbered 1,490. Only 868 were saved by the Carpathia, the rescue ship.

The ship was making its maiden trip. The accident was due to a collision with a floating iceberg. Capt. E. S. Smith was in charge.

THIS IS THE PICTURE OF MRS. JACQUES FUTRELLE, WHO, WITH SEVERAL OTHER BEREAVED WOMEN, IS ON HER WAY TO THE FATAL SPOT IN THE ATLANTIC WHERE THAT $10,000,000 COFFIN, THE TITANIC, WENT DOWN. THIS STREWING OF THE SEA WITH FLOWERS IN MEMORY OF THE DEAD WILL BE ONE OF THE MOST IMPRESSIVE SERVICES EVER HELD ON A SHIP'S DECK.

STRANGE MASS MEETING HELD IN OLD SAN FRANCISCO GRAVEYARD.

The strangest protest mass meeting ever held anywhere was that in San Francisco recently when thousands assembled in one of the city's old graveyards to protest against the proposed removal of 100,000 bodies to other resting places.

The people were incensed at a bill before the California legislature which would give the supervisors the right to order the removal of all bodies. Speeches were made at the foot of the Broderick tomb, where rest the remains of a family famous in San Francisco life. It was perhaps the strangest and the most impressive gathering ever witnessed in a city.

WOMEN AS SALOON KEEPERS.

Milwaukee, April 14.—It has just come to light that seventeen of the 2,091 saloons in Milwaukee are owned and managed by women.

"A woman may own and conduct a saloon just as well, if not better, than a man," says Mrs. F. O. Mehner, owner of one of the seventeen.

"The fact that the place is conducted by a woman tends to cause the men patrons to deport themselves in a more mannerly way.

"The bars in charge of women will eclipse in point of cleanliness and deportment of patrons any conducted by men. The only matter of criticism appears to be the sex of the owner, many persons being of the opinion that women are incapable of operating an establishment of this class."

WOMAN "COWBOY" HAS BIG RANCH

Developed Small Place Left by Father Into 10,000 Acre Range.

IS GOOD HORSEWOMAN

Hyannis, Neb., April 14.—Ten years ago Miss Helen Lynch was a student in the high school at Omaha. Today she owns and personally operates a cattle ranch of 10,000 acres in this county, on which are thousands of cattle and 100 horses and "cow ponies." The ranch is known as the "O-H," and cattle bearing that brand can be seen in the live stock markets of Omaha, Chicago and Kansas City.

Miss Lynch did not graduate from the Omaha schools, but she has made a success of the business to which she devoted herself upon the death of her father ten years ago.

Thomas Lynch left a little property in the shape of a small ranch out in the "sand hills" country, a widow and four children. At a family council after the funeral Helen announced her intention of quitting school and devoting her attention to the small ranch. Mr. Lynch had often said that Helen had good business sense, and the mother gave her consent.

"No long range management for me," said Helen. "I'm going out to the ranch and live on it."

And she did. Her father had many friends out on the range, and they were glad to advise her. She was able to separate the good from the bad. So she prospered, and the ranch grew from the small affair left the father to the 10,000-acre domain of today. Last year Helen cut 1,100 tons of hay, worth in Omaha more than $15,000. At the beginning there was considerable trouble with the cattle "rustlers." A number of the ranchmen got together and determined to wipe them out, and several of her cowboys lent their aid. Since then no cattle have been "rustled."

Miss Helen is an expert horsewoman, and is in the saddle almost constantly. She is her own manager, buys her own cattle and takes them to market. She uses a big "Miles City" saddle, carries a lariat at the pommel and a revolver in a holster. She wears a divided skirt, a pair of boots that reach to her knees and a large white soft hat. She can use the lariat with any cowboy on the range and is a good shot. She is the best "hazer" around Hyannis. The "hazer" on a ranch is the rider who steers a bucking bronco that is being broken. He follows at the heels of the regular "buster," and when the bronco is seen to be headed for a barbed wire fence or any other danger, he must so manoeuvre as to push his own mount between it and the threatened danger. The job is one for a full-sized man. Miss Lynch is the only woman "hazer" in the county.

Miss Lynch's main object in carrying a lariat is to assist an animal in distress. Steers often get mired in the mud around the water holes and will perish if left to themselves. Miss Helen casts her rope over their horns and with the other end of the rope fastened securely to her pommel pulls the animal out.

The recent blizzard came on suddenly and swept across the plains at the rate of fifty miles an hour. Miss Lynch and such of her cowboys as she could reach mounted their horses and set out after the great herd which they knew would soon start drifting before the snowy blasts. Before the riders arrived at that part of the range in which the herd had been grazing the animals were going at full speed. The cowboys and Miss Lynch took after them, and mile after mile the race went on, the riders trying to head off the frightened animals. Finally the cows and calves gave up the fight and suffered themselves to be herded, but the steers kept going.

Next day the blizzard was over, but on all sides were piled great snowdrifts, some twenty feet deep. Many miles to the south the stampeded herd was found in draws and ravines. Many were frozen to death; others were so deep in the drifts that nothing but their heads and horns would be seen. Lariats were thrown over the horns and the steers were pulled out, Miss Lynch doing her share of the work.

WOMAN DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S JOB IS TO GIVE FREE ADVICE TO HER SEX

MARGARET GARDNER.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 14.—For the first time in its history the city prosecutor's office boasts a woman deputy.

She is Miss Margaret Gardner, a graduate of Leland Stanford university, who was admitted to the bar of Los Angeles in September, 1911, and shortly thereafter became a clerk in the city prosecutor's office. Her appointment as deputy recently was an admission of merit and a recognition of the need of women being advised by one of her own sex.

Miss Gardner's life motto is "Be ready," and she is ready every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5, to listen to complaints and advise women in regard to law and business matters. As her advice is absolutely free, this innovation in the city prosecutor's office will prove a much needed boon to womankind.

"My idea is that a lawyer's widest field of usefulness lies in his ability to keep people out of litigation instead of helping them out after they are in. Women get into legal difficulties through ignorance and overconfidence in others." Miss Gardner paused, then with a little sigh, continued, "Oh, this confidence.

"The first case that was brought to me after my appointment was one in which a woman had signed a contract binding her to a distinctly unfair arrangement. I asked her why she signed it, and she said that the man told her that the contract did not mean what the written words purported—that it was 'just written that way.' Imagine!

"There isn't any use to say she was silly; she had from her infancy been taught to rely unquestioningly on others. Confidence in men was to her a cardinal virtue, regardless of what it cost her. The thing that makes me so wildly angry is the way women fall for this kind of fraud and the way dishonest men profit by it. It is just as mean to take advantage of a woman's ignorance of law as of a child's ignorance of life.

"A woman came to me last week to consult me about a trade. She did not even know how to go about finding out whether the terms offered her were just.

"Of course, things will never be right as long as women are economic slaves. Bernard Shaw made that discovery and I agree with him. I did not know how to check my own trunk until I was a senior in college, because my brothers always did it for me—and my father believed in absolute equality between the sexes.

"Now, just what idea of business do you suppose a woman has when she suddenly finds herself the widow of a male who had the manheaded view of things? Surely the least society can do for her is to furnish her with free advice. If women will only come to me before they sign contracts or go to law about family and neighborhood quarrels, they may save themselves much suffering and more money. A woman can more easily catch a woman's viewpoint than a man can, consequently when I advise women to discontinue neighborhood quarrels and live in peace they will be inclined to do so. If a man told them the same thing they might resent it."

"So you think the big field for women lawyers is the education of their own sex in business matters?" she was asked.

"There are quite a number of big fields," she said carefully. "When a woman studies law, all the attorneys tell her jubilantly what a lovely field awaits her in brief work. Between us, that is the drudgery of the profession—I don't propose to do it. Just what I will do remains to be determined. My motto is 'Be ready,' and when the opportunity appears on the scene lay hold of it with firm and capable hands."

SOCIETY WOMEN ARE FLAT FOOTED

Prevailing Fashion in Shoes Conduces Broken Down Arches.

HOW THEY ARE WORN

Milwaukee, April 14.—If Milwaukee society women and the working girls who ape them in matters of dress do not use more judgment in the selection of their shoes in a few years they will all be paddling around like ducks on flat feet, in the opinion of local chiropodists.

So general has this ailment become among Milwaukee women that establishments where feet are doctored are full of waiting patients, and at some of the more popular ones it is difficult to make an appointment.

Broken down arches affect the entire nervous system, and the foot doctors say that many a society woman who thinks her social duties are making a nervous wreck of her could stop all the trouble by wearing a different make of shoes which would support the arches of the feet.

The dainty little pumps, high of heel, short of vamp and pointed toe, are responsible.

Miss Kate Brown, chiropodist, says that dozens of women come to her suffering with flat feet, who are in bad physical condition, but who could end all their troubles by wearing sensible shoes. They refuse to do this, however, she says.

"When I tell them they should wear different shoes they say: 'Why, these are the most comfortable pumps I have ever worn,' and all the time they are suffering torment. But they are happy in a way, because they know that this sort of shoe looks chic and dainty."

The new style of shoe, which is exactly the reverse of the high heeled shoe which started all the trouble, only aggravates the situation, say the foot [illegible] The new shoe has a broad and extremely low heel and low arch under the instep. The feet used to being bolstered up by the high arch have developed a set of flabby and next to useless instep muscles, and without the support of the old style last allows the foot to flatten out. The remedy can only be found in an artificial arch, which can be placed in the shoe, giving the desired support.

If flat-heeled shoes had been worn since childhood there would be no difficulty, but as it is, wearers will have to take the consequences for the trouble started by the high-heeled variety.

The first symptom of this disease is a pain in the foot a little below and in front of the ankle. This is followed by pains in the small of the back and then in the heel. In many cases it is impossible to restore the foot to its normal shape, and where relief is possible a long course of treatment is required.

TOURNEY PROVES MEN ARE FASTER

Fort Wayne Bowlers Need No Handicaps in the Tournaments.

LEADERS HOLD OWN

Five years ago it was necessary in the planning of a Fort Wayne bowling tournament to give the beginners' handicaps that put them on equal footing with the more experienced men. However, there has been such rapid development and the youngsters have made such strides in the game that they are able now to go into the meetings with the older heads and hold their own right through.

That Fort Wayne has more good bowlers than any town of its size in the country has been demonstrated by the tournament that closed here on Sunday morning and by the showing made when the men went against all the cracks of the United States at Toledo and held their own.

With the Metropolitan alleys in good shape, now was and fine opportunity to show their real class, the men came through with some excellent scores and Secretary A. W. Sander and Manager Herman Kappel are being congratulated along with Ben Engemann, John Leist and Ed Harkenrider, who framed up the excellent schedule.

Leaders who took places Friday night in the various divisions held their own to the last, and although some of the best bowlers tackled their scores the marks withstood the attacks. The winners and the prize list follows.

PHILLIPS DIDN'T TAMPER ONE BIT

Denies Charge That He Tried to Get Youngstown Men.

NOT WITH FEDERAL

Youngstown, O., April 14.—President Paul Powers has received a letter from Bill Phillips in which the Charleroi man declared he was not tampering with members of the Youngstown team. He also stated that he is not going to manage the Indianapolis club in the Federal league.

According to the letter Phillips' wife is in a critical condition in a Pittsburg hospital. He says his interests in Charleroi will keep him busy for some time, and the condition of Mrs. Phillips may result in his remaining out of the national game this year.

Phillips' many friends in Youngstown will receive the news of Mrs. Phillips' illness with genuine regret. While not generally known here, Mrs. Phillips made friends in this city on the occasion of her several visits here, and those who enjoyed her acquaintance speak in the highest terms of her lovely disposition and womanly qualities.

Mr. Powers and others of Phillips' Youngstown friends did not take snap judgment on the former Steelman leader on hearing the news that he had been tampering with the Steelman under contract. Mr. Powers stated emphatically that he would not charge him with any such conduct until he had undisputed evidence, as he declared Phillips was numbered among his best friends.

Phillips does not state definitely his position regarding a managerial berth this season. It was generally announced that he had signed with the Indianapolis club owners, but he states that such is not the case. His friends will be glad to hear that he has denied the charge. Phillips has an unblemished record in baseball for legitimate dealing. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have the best wishes of a number of local friends for the latter's speedy and permanent recovery.

LITTLE CHANCE TO WORK.

Shamrocks Out Strong but Weather Conditions Were Unfavorable.

Mart Cleary had plenty of material out for his Shamrock practice yesterday but the weather conditions were so bad the men could not extend themselves. Clifton W. "Buck" Benoy will be a member of the pitching staff, and Bartels, of the Knitting mills team, who has played here several times, will be at first base.

Frank "Chick" Carr is trying out for short and so is Bossler. Pokick wants an infield position and Walt and Clarence Centlivre are out to make the outfield. Centlivre can hit and while he was green last season, he looked like a good prospect. Robbins and Bakley will be the other two pitchers and Hofer will be the regular catcher for the club. The team is booked to meet the Central club here next Sunday.

CHOCHOIT DIDN'T MAKE TEAM.

Joe Chochoit is back after an unsuccessful effort to land on the pitching staff of the Youngstown club. He looked good last season and while he is not ripe for class B, he promises to develop in the course of another season.

GERMANIAS ADDED NEW LAURELS TO THEIR RECORD BY WINNING THE CHAMPIONSHIP IN CITY TOURNAMENT.

BURKE PUTS HIS TROUPE AT WORK

Gives Men Good Workout Under First Real Sunshine.

SHORT OF HURLERS

Manager Jimmy Burke put his troupe of baseballers through a steady drill during the fore and afternoons today and the first real sunshine since his arrival gave him a chance to get the men limbered up.

Concordia diamond is rough because it has been used when the ground was soft but an application or two of the roller will put it in fair shape to work on until the field at League park is ready to receive the Varnell athletes.

The team is a bit short of pitching material and unless Young and Loudell get in before tomorrow morning the manager will send out a hurry call. Loudell has not signed his contract and has announced that he will stick to his ice cream business this summer.

Young has signed his contract, and he lives somewhere in Pennsylvania. Last season he hit here, glanced off and finished well at Ludington, Mich.

Roy Keener was in the box for a time this morning and was putting a little steam on the ball. Goldrick and Fred Alberts took a turn in the box but nobody was allowed to cut loose. Alberts complained of a sore arm.

Two or three days more of sunshine will give the manager an opportunity to size up his troopers and pick the most promising. He will cut down very rapidly as he has but ten days in which to prepare for the season and he will work his men hard every minute they are out for practice.

Burke is in fine shape and is ready to play ball. He is still up and going every minute and he keeps his players on the jump. He will have hard work getting his pitchers ready but the rest is easy. Bunny Fabrique was out with the men this morning, having arrived yesterday from his home in Michigan.

WANTS TO PLAY SHORT.

Julius Orris, who caught part of last season for the Youngstown team, wants to play the infield and may get a chance at the short field position.

HAS CONFIDENCE IN ABE.

Joe Rivers is out with an offer to bet that Abe Attell can lick any man in his class and he proposes to bet real money at that.

WOULD NOT ALLOW CLAIM.

Hugo Swartling put in a claim of $33 against the Zanesville club for services between the time he reported and jumped and the national commission decided he was not entitled to the money.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Public:

To those of you who so liberally contributed food, clothing and shelter to the children of the Allen County Orphans' home, we desire through the columns of this paper to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks for your aid and assistance in the darkest hour the Orphans' Home has ever known since its establishment.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to those of you who have suffered from the flood, and those rendered homeless by the calamity which has befallen you.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES ALLEN COUNTY ORPHANS' HOME.

TERRE HAUTE IS CHOSEN.

Membership of Machinists in Indiana Shows Gain.

Indianapolis, April 14.—Terre Haute was chosen for the September meeting of the Indiana state districts of machinists at the semi-annual session here yesterday. Reports read showed that the membership in the last year had been increased from 5,000 to 7,000. The new officers are: President, W. J. Prieger, Indianapolis; first vice president, Henry Laverge, Hammond; second vice president, James Hill, Evansville; secretary-treasurer, George Greenleaf, Terre Haute.

MUST KEEP THE SEAT.

Senator Beall Will Try to Get Even With the Chicago Nationals.

Chicago, April 14.—Failure of State Senator Edward Beall, member of the senate vice commission, and Sergeant-at-Arms L. B. Scanlon, of the senate, to obtain possession of box seats for which they had paid at the west side baseball park yesterday, may result in the introduction of legislation at Springfield this week intended to cover such cases. The seats which were sold to the two were found to be occupied, and investigation is said to have revealed the fact that the occupants had also paid cash money for them. An appeal was made to the management without effect and then Senator Beall declared he would introduce a bill in the legislature which would provide a fine of from $100 to $1,000 of any amusement enterprise or any street car or other public conveyance who sells a seat in his park or car and then fails to see that the patron gets what he purchased.

STAGG GOES TO COLORADO.

Chicago, April 14.—Athletic Director Alonzo Stagg, of the University of Chicago, left yesterday for Colorado, where he will spend two or three months building up his health. He announced he would not work with the university athletes again until the opening of the football practice season.

FIRST FROM THE VETERANS' CAMP

Getting Ready There to Take on Fort Wayne in Opener.

TWENTY-FIVE THERE

In the first bit of baseball news that has leaked out of stricken Dayton the announcement is made that the Vets are rolling into camp and are getting ready for the opening game with the Fort Wayne players. The Daily News has this to say:

"With the arrival of Lester Burgess, the outfielder from Terhune, Ind., the list of missing Vets was reduced to six. The absent sextette is composed of Pitchers Jack Compton, Jakie Frohmholtz and Monte Olmstead, Catcher Bill Warren and Outfielders Hank Elbel and Arista De Haven. Most of these fellows are probably on their way at this time, dodging high water and broken bridges in an effort to reach Manager Nee and report for spring practice.

"Rain again kept the Vets under the bleachers and the grand stand and most of last week, but when Jupiter Pluvius would let up for a few minutes Manager Johnny Nee would take the gang out in right field for a few minutes and let them scamper around a bit. The infield would not permit any treading upon it, but with some more of the good weather that was handed out the latter part of the week Groundskeeper Ismel was confident he would have the diamond in good trim for the exhibition Saturday and Sunday games with Marty Hogan's tribe from Zanesville.

"With nearly twenty-five athletes on hand and hardly any of them having had a chance to show their goods to the manager, Nee is unable to frame a line-up for the first game, but it is certain practically all of the lads will have the opportunity of getting into one or the other of the Zanesville contests."

ELKS TO HAVE TOURNAMENT.

Manager Ed Harkenrider has selected the dates between May 5 and May 10 for the annual bowling tournament at the Elks' alleys, and as some good men have been developed this season, he expects a big entry list for the event.

CONTRACTOR HAS MEN ON THE JOB

Delagrange Promised to Have Grounds Ready for Opening.

NOT STEEL FENCES

Contractor L. C. Delagrange started a gang of men on the work of rehabilitating League park today and if he fulfills his agreement with Owner Claude H. Varnell the lot will be all ready for the opening day game with the Dayton club.

He has just fifteen working days in which to complete the task and he has given his word he will do it unless the weather man stops him. There is still some water in the park but the players expect to use part of the field during the week and it will not interfere with the building of the fences.

Mr. Varnell had intended to erect steel fences so that the winds and floods might do their worst without carrying away his property, but he found the steel could not be put up without braces. He does not want them on the inside and the city will not stand for them on the outside and the scheme was abandoned.

The club house has not been seriously damaged and it will be put back in position as soon as a foundation has been constructed for it. The water and light connections will have to be made before the men can use it.

A bit of sunshine this morning injected new life into everybody connected with the team, and preparations are being hurried along in order to be ready for the opening battle.

MAGNOLIAS TAKE A WORKOUT.

Play Five Innings to Help Get Ready for the Season's Work.

Two teams picked from the recruits and veterans of the Magnolias played five innings on the old golf grounds yesterday afternoon. The field was in bad shape owing to the recent heavy rains, and this hampered the players somewhat. Nevertheless Captain Rabais put his men through a stiff drill in fungo hitting and running the bases.

Al Wichman, a member of the Magnolias of last season, who has signed with Canton, worked out. He will leave today for Canton. Gardner Hines and Roy Lopshire are new men who bid fair for positions on the local team. The team will work out in their gymnasium Thursday night.

MYERS TRIES TO SIGN GILHOOLEY

Is After Player Who Was in Central Short Time in 1912.

HE IS NOT SATISFIED

Canton, O., April 14.—That Manager Rude Myers is not yet satisfied with his infield material for the Canton club is evidenced by the fact that he is still in communication with Gilhooley, the young shortstop released by Canton last season to South Bend without trial. Gilhooley was wanted by Myers two months ago, but the price asked for him was too much at that time.

Gilhooley is now the property of the London club of the Canadian league, to which club he was sold by Canton after South Bend decided not to take him. He played 18 games with London, in which he batted .250 and made thirty errors at short.

The price on the young player has come down $100, due to the fact that he will be unable to report until June 1. He is attending Niagara university and intends to finish the year's course before going into baseball. London now wants $200 for the infielder.

It is likely that Myers will start the spring practice with the same infield as was used last season, excepting himself at first base instead of Ed Grammlinger. He has not corralled a man to take King's place at second base yet, leaving King and Humphreys to fight for the berth with a possible chance that one of the youngsters signed may be able to step in and take the coin.

Rabbit Robinson at short and Scotty Alcock on third is the probable line-up on these positions, although Alcock has not receded from his holdout attitude since Bade announced that suspension would follow the absence of a contract next week. Robinson is as good as signed with Canton, as he has promised to do so this week.

Myers wants Gilhooley more as a big league prospect than as a regular as he thinks he has the stuff and will advance a few notches toward the top soon.

Officials Have Changed the Time of Their Inspection Trip.

R. J. Larimore, who for the past three years has been employed by the Lake Shore and the Lake Erie & Western railroads in the capacity of claim agent, has resigned that position, effective at once. He will enter the employ of the Hanna-Brackenridge company as traffic manager. Previous to his coming here three years ago he was employed on an eastern division of the Lake Shore.

The place made vacant by the resignation is to be filled by A. C. Houghby, third trick operator for the Lake Shore here. He has held that position in Fort Wayne for one year, but previously held a similar position at Hillsdale, Mich.

The third man to be affected by changes is H. C. Tuttle, of Pleasant Lake. He is to take Mr. Houghby's former position as third trick operator, and intends to move his family here in the near future.

WABASH OFFICIALS TO INSPECT.

They Will Visit in Fort Wayne on Wednesday.

The inspection trip of President Frederic A. Delano, William K. Bixby and Edward B. Pryor, Wabash receivers, and other high officials of the company, will be made during this week instead of next week, as was before announced. No information for the change has been received by Wabash officials here.

Leaving St. Louis tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock the inspection party will travel as far as Lafayette during the first day. On Wednesday the officials will leave Lafayette at 7 o'clock and it is expected that they will reach here about noon. After looking over the property and improvements in this city they will leave for St. Thomas, Ont. From there they will inspect the northern division of the road to Chicago and thence back to St. Louis.

RESUME WORK ON IMPROVEMENTS

Freight Yards of Lake Shore Are Being Completed.

Master Carpenter P. J. O'Neil of Hillsdale, Mich., has arrived in the city with a force of workmen to resume work on improvements in the Lake Shore freight yards. A watchman's tower at the Fourth street crossing is the first work that will be done. An unloading crane also will be erected soon at Clinton and Fourth streets. Grading for two freight storage tracks will be commenced this week. Road Foreman T. W. Dempsey has a force of eighty men at work repairing the tracks that were damaged by the flood, and the tracks between the depot and the new freight house are being reballasted and raised one foot in order to keep them out of water if another flood occurs.

FREIGHT BUSINESS IS HEAVY.

Much of It Was Delayed During High Water.

Local freight officials say that the movement of freight is exceptionally heavy at the present time. This fact is attributable, they say, to the flood, much of the freight being delayed because the roads were unable to accept shipments during the reign of the high waters. The shipments are coming in great bunches now and all freight departments in the city are in the midst of a grand rush.

HAS CONTRACT FOR STATION.

According to information received here the Continental Building and Construction company, of St. Louis, is the firm that has been awarded the contract for the new Wabash passenger station to be erected here. The terms of the contract stipulate that the construction work should be started at once, and it is expected that the old freight station, which is the site of the new depot, will be razed during this week.

PREPARE FOR CONVENTION.

The general committee on arrangements for the annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers, to be held here beginning May 6, met at the Commercial club yesterday afternoon and appointed several sub-committees. Preparations have been under way for some time, but were retarded somewhat by the flood. The following committees were selected:

Committee on entertainment—Ben Davies, chairman; Ben Billingsley, secretary-treasurer. Committee on memorial services—Harry Shelley, Wm. Hornberger, Dot Hollis, Peter Pe-pin, Clark Crawford. Committee on halls—D. W. Bolt, Wm. Hornberger, John Bennington, Harry Shelley, Geo. Davies, Wm. Felber. Committee on hotels and rooms—John Bennington, Emmett Ellison, George Davies, Ted Barr, R. Cantwell, Charles Gildea, Wm. Elzay. Committee on badges and banners—Wm. Elzay, Ted Barr, Wm. Hornberger.

AUXILIARY TO MEET.

Nickel Plate Division, No. 513, G. I. A. to the B. of L. E., will hold a pedro party in Nickel Plate Engineers' hall, Main and Cherry streets, on Tuesday afternoon. Also they will hold a pedro and dance there on Tuesday night and Thursday afternoon an important meeting will be held at which all members are requested to be present.

TRAIN SERVICE IS BETTER.

Most all west-bound trains entering the city are now making better time than at any time since the flood, and the service has greatly improved in the last two days. In many instances the trains are running on schedule time.

COLONIST RATES OFF.

The colonist rates to the Pacific coast will be discontinued after today. The rates have been in effect since March 15, and the fare of $41.75 to all points on the Pacific coast will be changed to $50.

ARE GONE TO PERU.

E. A. Rogers, division freight agent for the Wabash at Toledo, was in the city this morning on business. He and C. E. Dale, division storekeeper in this city, went to Peru on business connected with the freight department.

DYING DOG BITES RESCUER.

Animal Taken From Beneath Car Buries Fangs in Man.

Chicago, April 14.—An Aesop fable was re-enacted in Chicago when John Amberg, 3808 Herndon avenue, rescued a dying bulldog from under a street car, only to have the animal bury its teeth in his face and arm. Like the fable of the man who found a snake stiff with the cold and put it next to his bosom until the animal warmed up sufficiently to sink its fangs in the flesh of its preserver, Mr. Amberg found that playing the Good Samaritan to a dying animal of ferocious tendencies was unprofitable even though humane.

The bulldog had been run over by a Southport avenue car at Addison avenue. Mr. Amberg saw the accident and, running out into the street took the crushed animal in his arms. He had hardly taken ten steps when the dying creature gave a fiuel yelp and buried his teeth in his rescuer's face. Another gnash of the powerful jaws and the animal had fastened its teeth in Amberg's left hand. The dog died in a few moments. Amberg was treated by a physician and later taken home.

"That's what I deserve for carrying a snake in my bosom," said Amberg ruefully.

DENNIS SAYS HE KNOWS NOO YAWK

Mr. Redman at 99 Doesn't Want to Be Treated Like a Mere Boy.

WHEN HE DOES TOWN

(By Mary Boyle O'Reilly.)

New York, April 14. Dennis Redman, aged 99, decided last night that living in the Bronx was too slow and went out to do New York. When he had not returned by midnight his son-in-law, Battalion Chief William H. Nash, quietly sent out a general alarm. The old sport got home an hour later, indignant at the "pother raised about him." "Am I not of age?" he piped; "don't I know how to take care of myself? The very idea of anybody getting excited about me. Do I know New York? Do I, indeed? Why did I live for-ty? To see my frie-nds, tub-be sure. First I went down to Brokaw's, w-he-re I used to w-ork, but none of the old boys was there. I seen a lot of young fe-llows about sixty-five, or the-reabouts, and a lot of children w-or-king around. So I le-ft. But whe-n I thought to step myself ove-r to the old Fourth ward it was then I strayed a bit. Was I lost? I was no-t, indeed, I just walk-ed around looking ove-r the old places w-here I lived w-hen I was a young man. They've changed less than you'd think—less than you'd think. But down where I used to live is nothing but big ster-es and w-are houses. Johnny McGraw's gone, and Billy Hastings and Harr-y Hills. Many's a good song I've heard at McGraw's. Mark, no-w, we have no songs these day-s like the old songs. I mind well the f-irst night that Jenny Lind sang in New York. T'was Petey Barnum that brought her over he-re. There ne-ve-r was anything like her heard to this day. Oh, yes, I've heard Patti, and I've heard a lot of those dagoe-s that have come s-ince, but, take my word for it, there was onl-y one s-inge-r that ever lived, and that was Jenny Lind. What did she sing? Well, she sang a goo-d many songs, but the one I'll never for-ge-t was the "Last Rose of Summer." I've he-ard the thrush sing in Ireland. I've he-ard the s-ong of the nightingale, but-t the singing of Jenny Lind w-as the voice of the ve-ry angels.

Harrigan and Hart? Oh, ye-s, they w-ere boys in my time. Sure, Harrigan was not more than a boy w-he-n he died. But I always liked Ned Harrigan. He had a lilt in his songs that reminded me of old Ireland and he sang them well. Yes, yes, those w-e-re the good times. But, mind you, Harrigan could not sing like Jenny Lind! Nomor-e can t-hose dagoes you he-ar tell about. Do I want to hear the-m? I do not, indeed. I'm home now, and here I'll stay. Still and all, it is a satisfaction that I seen the town."

BOGUS PARENTS OFFER CONSENT

Lovelorn Boy and Girl Hire Mother and Father for Ceremony.

REAL DAD SHOWS UP

Kansas City, April 14. Determined to be married despite the fact both were under age and neither could obtain parental consent, Roland H. Fairchild, 19 years old, of 1819 East Tenth street, and Lucile Hatfield, 16 years old, of 1231 Michigan avenue, bargained for the services of two elderly and respectable looking guests of the Helping Hand to furnish the needed "parental consent."

The entire party was arrested later at the Wyandotte county court house just as the two residents of the Helping Hand were telling Probate Judge John T. Sims they had no objection to the marriage of their offspring.

The "near" bride and bridegroom were returned to the homes of their respective parents.

Lucile is the daughter of E. L. Hatfield, a painter and Roland is the son of Charles H. Fairchild, a cigar dealer. Mr. and Mrs. William T. Cross, 1804 East Fifteenth street, chums of the would-be bride and bridegroom respectively, were married only three days before, although they also are 19 and 16 years old respectively, but they gained the consent of their parents. At a conference of the four young people it had been decided the only way out was to get some one to act "in loco parentis."

They went immediately to the Helping Hand and found two men who for a small consideration were willing to assume the responsibility temporarily. A part of the conversation, however, was overheard by C. H. Tipton, field agent for the welfare board. He became suspicious and followed them.

They went directly to the office of Judge Sims in Kansas City, Kan., and the two mercenary "parents" had just given their "consent" when Mr. Tipton swooped down on them. He called Kansas City, (Kan.) police headquarters and the entire party was arrested by Motorcycle Patrolman Cook.

"You ought to be spanked," Capt. R. L. O'Donnell said to the younger members of the "wedding party, "but you two," turning to the men, "I have a good notion to put in jail."

"Don't be too severe with them," Roland said. "They weren't to blame. We got them into it."

Captain O'Donnell turned the entire party over to Mr. Tipton to be taken back to Kansas City, Mo.

It is not believed any of the party will be prosecuted.

TEARING DOWN THE BRIDGE.

Old Structure Across Delta Lake Is Being Removed.

Workmen have been engaged to remove the bridge across Delta lake on Columbia avenue and a narrower one for foot passengers will be constructed for people living across the lake. Vehicles will be compelled to go around either Edgewater or Lake avenues.

The hearing on the assessment roll for the improvement of Thieme drive has been set for May 17 and a meeting of property owners will be held this week to ascertain what improvements are desired on Anthony boulevard.

The purchase of an acre of ground near St. Mary's river at the entrance to Foster park has been ordered and the city will then own all ground from the Broadway bridge to the park.

The Fort Wayne Federation of Labor will meet in regular session this evening at Harmony hall. A number of special committee reports will be received.

D. A. Coan, of Columbus, O., has accepted a position as sales manager for the Fort Wayne Oil and Supply company.

FIVE FREED BY JURY'S VERDICT

Held Not Guilty in Land Fraud Charges at Chicago.

INDIANA MEN ACQUIT

Chicago, April 14.—Albert C. Frost of Chicago, former president and promoter of the Alaska Central railroad, and his four co-defendants, all interested in the development of the road, were found not guilty in the federal court here yesterday of conspiracy to obtain control illegally of millions of dollars' worth of coal lands in the Matanuska Valley, Alaska. The other men acquitted were:

George C. Ball of Muncie, Ind., financial backer of most of the Frost coal locators.

Frank Watson of Spokane, Wash., who located most of the Matanska claims under power of attorney for the various entrymen.

George M. Seward, formerly of Bloomington, Ind., now of Chicago, former vice president of the Alaska Central.

Pierre G. Beach of Chicago, former secretary of the Alaska Central.

Claims Held Up.

Disputes over the methods of coal laim locators caused the coal lands to e withdrawn from entry during President Roosevelt's last administration. Frost and his associates were indicted March 6, 1911, charged with conspiracy to obtain control of sixty-four coal locations by means of "dummy" entrymen. The government asserted that the railroad promoters caused stenographers and other employes to apply for coal lands with the purpose of turning the entire group over to Frost.

The verdict, while a vindication of the business methods of the defendants, does not open the way for the completion of the railroads, as the coal lands still are withdrawn from entry and will remain so until released by the department of the interior.

Mr. Frost said after the acquittal that construction of the road was at a standstill, while the country was closed to locators.

Admitted by Frost.

Interdependence of the road and the coal land owners was one of the points most strongly urged by the prosecution. It was freely admitted by Frost, but the fact apparently had no weight with the jury.

At no time was the jury more than evenly divided against the defendants. The first ballot stood 6 to 6. The jury took the case at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The verdict was given at 2 yesterday afternoon.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, on hearing the verdict, demanded that a copy of it be handed him. The court was silent while he examined the paper.

"Counsel for the defense are to be congratulated on having achieved a most extraordinary victory," he said, after studying the signatures of the jurymen.

Later when asked to amplify his statement, Judge Landis replied. "I refuse to add anything to that. I will say nothing more concerning this verdict."

Scores Government.

Frost made the following statement:

"I induced a number of my friends as well as some of my employes and others to take claims. I did so under advice of the best legal counsel. All that I did was for the development and welfare of the country.

"The attitude of the government toward Alaska in the last eight years has throttled all development and the population of that great empire is less today than it was eight years' ago. On the contrary, Western Canada, by a policy diametrically opposite, has increased its population tenfold."

The defense brought in the names of the Morgan-Guggenheim Alaskan interests, declaring that that alleged financial combination was inimical to the success of the Alaska Central road and that it was necessary for the Frost interests to get the Matanuska coal lands into friendly hands.

UNDERWOOD ORDERED TO BED.

Democratic Congressional Leader is Near a Break-Down.

Washington, April 14.—Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, was ordered to bed today by his physicians, who declared he had a slight fever and was in danger of a break-down from hard work on the tariff bill. He may be confined for several days. His illness, however, did not interfere with the house caucus, which will work on.

Priest Will Aid Cupid and "Pop" the Question for Young Men

IF THEY DESIRE IT

New York, April 14.—The Rev. Father Angelus, pastor of St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic church at Englewood, N. J., is a believer in early marriage, and all Englewood is discussing the sermon he preached, urging all the young men and women of his church to marry at once and promising his assistance in getting life partners for each one of his congregation.

More than four thousand persons, nearly one-fourth of the number unmarried and of a marriageable age, were stirred to strict attention when Father Angelus opened his sermon with this sentence:

"There are too many bachelors in this parish.

"And there are too many unmarried women," he continued. "All of you who are old enough should be married. You can't make the complaint that the high cost of living prevents you from marrying, young men, for it is not the high cost of living. It is the cost of high living that stops you. This is the real reason why there are so few marriages today.

Don't Wait, Is His Advice.

"And young men and young women, when you find some one of the opposite sex whom you love, don't wait too long before you get married, for then you are apt to be kept waiting all your life.

"A year is plenty long enough to keep company. By that time you both should know whether or not you are suited to each other. Just as soon as you get your mind made up propose, one of you. It doesn't make much difference which. If you don't propose you will not get married.

"If you find you love a girl or a young man and you haven't the nerve to propose to her or him, why, come to me. I will be only too glad to help you. If you are too bashful to do your own proposing I'll propose for you.

"And when you do get married it is well that you should have large families. Children are far better than automobiles and sometimes it is impossible to support both. Have the children first and let the automobile come after. Because the family next door to you have no children is no reason why you should allow the same condition to exist in your family.

"For a man and his wife to intentionally avoid having children is called race suicide, and I say to you young men and women to whom I am preaching this morning that race suicide is a crime. It is as much of a crime as murder; it is as much of a crime against humanity as if you went out into the street and shot a man dead.

Simpler Pleasures Best.

"To the young men I wish to say that if you are earning fair money it is wrong that you do not take some woman to make a home for you and care for your children. She will make your life brighter, and you must not say that you can not afford it. You will find that, once married, you will give up much of the pleasures which now take so much of your time and money for the simpler, less expensive but far more enjoyable pleasures of a cosy home with a loving wife.

"You young women, when you marry, must remember that you can not have everything you want. A man who is earning twelve dollars a week can not make you presents of fifteen dollar hats very often. But for his love you should be willing to give up some of these things. Don't be envious of what the wife next door has. She may have an automobile and may not believe in having children, but you will find that with your husband's love and your children you will be far happier than she.

"One thing you must remember is to continue your love after marriage. Do not let yourselves get into habits that will destroy your love for each other. In this modern day it is too true that there is too much love before marriage and too little after.

"Let me emphasize again that you should marry early. It is the first love that is the ideal. It is the romance of your life and its continuation means great happiness to young men and women who marry the persons whom they first love.

"I will be glad to help you all, and it is one of the most pleasant duties as pastor to unite in matrimony a young man and a young woman of my parish. Last week I married three couples in this parish, and this week I am to marry two more. I hope I may soon announce that many more marriages are to take place among the young people of this church."

Whether or not any of the young men of Father Angelus' parish are going to take advantage of this offer to do their proposing for them is not known, but it is said that several of them left the church after the service with expressions on their faces which denoted a newly aroused spirit of determination.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN, THE SECOND.

John Pierpont Morgan is his name.

He is 46 years old and a graduate of Harvard.

He looks like his father did at 46, talks like his father did, acts like his father acted and smokes big black cigars like his father used to.

He spent years in the Morgan bank in New York; more years at the head of the Morgan interests in London and slid naturally into possession of the mahogany desk beside his father's eight years ago as the royally nominated heir to the throne.

Jane Norton Grew became his wife in 1890.

They have four children, with whom young Morgan spends all the spare time he can steal from the banking business.

He is six feet tall, weighs 200 pounds and is fond of outdoor sports, being particularly partial to yachting and tennis, in which he is expert.

He is a director of about thirty corporations and an officer in almost as many.

He has a personal fortune independent of his father's millions that puts him in the millionaire class.

He knows every detail of the immense business of the Morgan interests both in America and Europe.

He avoids publicity with even greater success than his father, the fact that he is a real tower of strength and not a weak member of the Morgan firm having only recently became apparent.

He is a member of the New York stock exchange and of a dozen or more clubs.

He loves work.

He hates sham, pretence and the flashy ways of the new rich.

James J. Hill, who has watched the young man closely and has been his tutor in several branches of finance, says:

"He's a chip of the old block."

DIARY OF AN OFFICE-SEEKER

Found in Front of a 3-Cent Lunch Room on Pennsylvania Avenue by O. P. Newman, The Sentinel's Correspondent in Washington.

Podunk Corners, Ky., April 2.

Resigned my job in old man Jenkins' store today. No more fifteen a week for me. I'm going to Washington to see Woody and get a soft berth. Drew my savings—$250—out of the bank and bought a ticket to Washington.

Washington, D. C., April 4.

Tipped the porter half a dollar when I got in. Rode in one of them automobile hacks that they call a taxi and told the driver to take me to the best hotel in town. Say, it's a swell place, but what do I care for money? I'll have a fine job in a day or two.

April 5.

Didn't see Woody today. Went up and looked at the White House. I wasn't a bit scared. A policeman opened the door and bowed just as polite. Inside was a big room, with men and women sitting around. A nice looking young man walked up and said: "What can I do for you?" I said right out loud: "My name's Josh Jones, and I've come clear from Podunk Corners, Ky., to see President Wilson."

The young fellow bowed and handed me a card. "Just fill that out," he said. I sat down to a table, where there was pen and ink and a lot of cards like the one I had, and filled it out like this:

Name—Josh Jones, Podunk Corners, Ky.

Wishes to See—President Wilson.

Nature of Business—Wants to talk about accepting a position.

The young fellow took my card and invited me to sit down. Everybody in the room was looking at me, but I wasn't a bit nervous. Pretty soon the young fellow came back, still smiling polite and bowing.

"The president can not see you," he said. "He has made a rule not to receive personal applications for office. You will have to apply to the head of the department where you want a position."

The people sitting round smiled, but I don't know why.

April 7.

Paid my hotel bill and moved to a cheaper place today. No use spending so much money just for a place to sleep and eat. Called on Secretary of State Bryan, but he was busy.

April 8.

Had a conference today with Mr. McAdoo, the secretary of the treasury. I read in a paper that the treasury department has 30,000 employes, and thought that would be the best place to get a job. When I went over to the big stone building there was a crowd of people around the entrance. A man whispered to me, "There comes Secretary McAdoo." I saw a lanky, black-haired fellow, smooth face, coming and stepped right up to him and put out my hand.

"I'm Josh Jones of Podunk Corners, Ky," I said. He stopped, just as kind and polite as anybody. "Glad to see you, Mr. Jones," he said, just like that, and he shook hands with me real hearty. I said: "I've come to Washington to confer with you about accepting a position in the treasury department."

Mr. McAdoo stopped smiling and dropped my hand. He started away, walking fast, and said over his shoulder: "Put your application in writing and file it with the appointment clerk."

First, when he started away I was afraid he was going to turn me down, but, you see, he didn't and I felt mighty good. I'm going to write out my application tonight.

April 10.

Haven't heard anything from Mr. McAdoo yet.

April 11.

No word from Mr. McAdoo. Probably will get a letter tomorrow.

April 15.

Moved to a boarding house on G street today. Have got $67.80 left out of my $250.

April 16.

Called on Secretary Bryan, Secretary Redfield and Secretary Lane today. Didn't see them.

April 18.

Was walking along the Potomac river tonight, feeling a little blue. Saw a policeman draw a body out of the water. Somebody had committed suicide, and the papers in his pocket showed he had been a clerk in the interior department. I telephoned Secretary Lane's house and he answered himself. I told him I wanted the place of the fellow who had just been drowned.

"You're too late," he said. "An hour ago I promised it to a man who saw him jump in."

If there's that many fellows after jobs, maybe it won't be so easy to get one as I thought it would be.

April 21.

Got a letter from Mr. McAdoo today; that is, it wasn't exactly from him, but he had it sent. This is what it said: "The secretary directs me to inform you that there is no position in the treasury department to which you can be appointed. He only has 60 places to fill outside the classified civil service, and he has already made appointments for all of them from the 15,000 applications which were received within 48 hours after he became secretary of the treasury."

From the Podunk Corners Weekly Gazette, April 25, 1913:

"Mr. Josh Jones is back at his old job in Jenkins' store after an absence of three weeks in the national capital. It is understood that Mr. Jones declined several important appointments under the Wilson administration, preferring his friends and interests in Podunk Corners to the honors of public office. Josh is not a bit set up over hob-nobbing with the politically great. Good boy, Josh."

BODY OF FLOOD VICTIM FOUND.

Unidentified Man is Taken from River Bank in Delphi.

Delphi, Ind., April 14.—The body of a middle-aged man, evidently a flood victim, was discovered almost buried in the sand on the edge of Deer Creek, just below the high bridge here yesterday. The body had been in the water and sand probably two weeks. There was not the slightest clew as to identity. The man was five feet seven inches tall, black eyes and hair, weight about 150 pounds, about 45 years old and evidently a laborer. The clothes were overalls, blue shirt, working coat and canvas overcoat. The body will be held for identification.

GIRLS IN SCHOOL MAKE THEIR HATS

Nearly Two Hundred Brilliant Millinery Designs Turned Out.

WORN BY THE MAKERS

Springfield, Mass., April 14.—High school girls are wearing strikingly effective spring millinery which they designed themselves at a surprisingly low cost.

Millinery is a part of the girls' course at the Technical high school, the aim being to teach the pupils to fashion becoming hats with due respect to both cost and utility.

Nearly two hundred hats were recently exhibited at the Technical high school. The hats were the work of the pupils in every particular. Little tags attached to the hats gave the cost of the materials used.

One smart bit of headgear, suitable for school and street wear through the spring and summer, cost the owner 43 cents, thus: Straw, 30 cents; frame, 10 cents; lining, 3 cents; ribbon, old. "Old" in this case meant not disfigured ribbon, but ribbon which had been used on another hat.

By using judgment in the selection of materials, the ribbon, velvet, feathers, tips and ornaments used in making one hat can be made to do service on its successor. The average cost of the hats exhibited was less than one dollar. At a medium-priced millinery establishment most of the hats would have been marked at $4 to $7.

Work on the hats began early in February before the spring styles were out. From the catalogs of wholesale houses the girls got a pretty accurate idea of what the shapes would be, and when they had finished the wire foundations they had seen a sufficient advance showing of spring millinery to decide upon the kind of straw they preferred. When it came to trimming the girls made observation excursions to the millinery stores.

Special attention was paid to color contrast and harmony, and the girls were shown by example that a hat which was becoming to one girl oftentimes could not be worn by another equally attractive girl. The instructors offered advice only when it was apparent that a serious mistake was in prospect.

CHILD STARVED IN DARK CLOSET

Was Treated Like a Dog and Made to Live on Crusts.

FINALLY RESCUED

New York, April 14.—Officials of the Children's society in Brooklyn declared they had never to deal with a case of such cruelty as that inflicted upon five-year-old Irene Powell of 593 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, whom they rescued from awful suffering.

The child was found in a closed room four by five feet in dimension, tied to the leg of an iron bedstead, devoid of mattress or blankets. The bed was the only piece of furniture in the room, which was in pitch darkness, owing to heavy shutters having ben nailed to the single window.

The child was unclothed, save for a ragged and filthy shawl, which she tried to wrap about her emaciated form.

Pleading with the society agents to go away quickly lest her mother return and beat her, the little creature began to weep bitterly and slunk in the corner.

She declared that her own father was dead and that her mother remarried Michael Moran, a longshoreman, last May. After that her mother put her into the closet and told her she would kill her if she made a sound. Since then, the child declared, she had never been out of the cell once, not even to bathe. Every time she cried, she said, her mother beat her and made her go days without food. Her one bill of fare was half a loaf of bread a day and a pail of water. All this punishment was inflicted, she said, because her mother and stepfather did not like her.

Mrs. Murtha, a neighbor, notified the authorities after, upon climbing out on her own roof, she had traced the sound of moans to the little barred window adjoining her kitchen. The child was covered with angry red welts and said she had asked God every night to let her die.

The police and Children's society agents are scouring the city for the mother and stepfather of the little girl.

EUGENIC BABIES ARE A SUCCESS, DECLARES MRS. J. BORDEN HARRIMAN WITH EMPHASIS.

MRS. J. BORDEN HARRIMAN AND SOME OF THE "EUGENIC BABIES."

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY.

Are babies bred under the laws of eugenics—the scientific breeding of the human race—successful?

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, famous New York society woman and charity worker, says "yes—decidedly yes." She comes to her conclusion because of the results achieved by the New York milk committee, of which she is president.

"Eugenic babies are far hardier than the ordinary kind, we have found in our work among the babies," says Mrs. Harriman. The death rate among them is far lower.

"The efforts to protect the half million quarts of milk consumed daily by babies in New York city under 5 years old led, last year, to a systematic campaign of parental instruction and care in the most congested districts.

"Six districts were selected, a nurse placed in charge of each and milk stations established. Expectant mothers from the tenements registered as early as possible, learned how to put themselves in good condition, how to keep in good condition, what foods to eat, what to avoid, what work to do and what work not to do. All this we called practical eugenics.

"This campaign reduced the infant mortality from 125 to the thousand to 103! Think of it!

"It is claimed that work of this sort—in fact all baby-saving work—is interfering with nature's plan of the survival of the fittest; that by keeping these babies alive we are helping to produce an inferior race.

"Well, we say postpone motherhood, if you will, but when it has occurred, it is worth while trying to insure the birth of the best possible babies.

Consider these pictures, presented here. "Alice" is the fifth child of its parents, but the first to be born alive. Both father and mother are industrious, healthy and in most matters intelligent, but they did not know the danger of a mother overworking before the birth of her baby. Our nurse taught them better and the result is a living and healthy child now 3 months old.

"'Jackie' is 2 months old and bids fair to become a healthy man, though he came of dissipated parents. Of his nine brothers and sisters, one was born dead and five died in infancy."

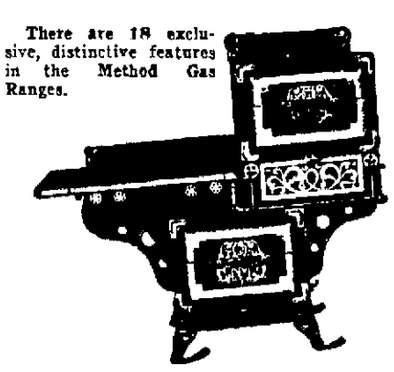
Don't Buy a Gas Range on Mere Faith Alone

When you are buying a gas range, don't be satisfied with a salesman's "say so" that the range he is trying to sell you consumes less gas, or bakes more even, etc. Make him give you some definite and logical reason. WHY it will do all that he claims; then make him PROVE that it will do so.

This is an age of positiveness, of definiteness. Somehow we are all kin to the little boy that said, "seeing is believing." We are prepared to show you, not verbally, but materially; show you by actual demonstrations.



There are 18 exclusive, distinctive features in the Method Gas Ranges.

We didn't buy New Method Ranges because the salesman said that they were better than any other gas ranges; we made him prove it, and he did, to our entire satifsaction. That is why we are so enthusiastic about these ranges.

As he proved to us by actual demonstration the superiority of the New Method Ranges, so we want to prove it to you.

We want to prove to you how the enameled steel burners of the New Method admit 3½ times more air than any cast-iron burner, and consequently deduct 25 per cent from your gas bill.

We want to prove how impossible it is to explode a New Method, how evenly and quickly it bakes, how easy it is kept clean, how convenient is the movable simmering burner and the split oven doors, etc.

We can't do this in an advertisement; an actual demonstration is necessary to prove these things to you.

Don't hesitate about coming in and asking us to show you these ranges, whether you want to buy one or not; dozens of people are doing so daily.

Remember, New Method Ranges are made in about 25 different styles at nearly every price, and are sold ex-clusively in this city at our store.

SHOT BY OFFICERS; MAY DIE.

Muncie Negro Attempts to Escape After Holding Up Man.

Muncie, Ind., April 14.—With three bullet holes through his body, Charles Gregory, colored, who was shot four times by the police Saturday night when he attempted to escape after having held up a railway car inspector, lies in the City hospital in a critical condition. Physicians doubt his recovery. Sergt. William Everson and Patrolman Jerry Curran found Gregory in the southern part of the city. Everson accosted the negro and the latter pulled a gun and fired. Both officers fired when Gregory started to run. One bullet passed through his shoulder, another through his arm and another through his wrist. One of the bullets from Gregory's gun passed through Everson's coat sleeve.

Remarkable Catarrh Cure

Gets Right into the Affected Parts and Stops Gathering in Eyes, Nose, Throat and Lungs.

"Nine-tenths of humanity suffer with catarrh but do not know what catarrh is," said an expert doctor, a specialist in blood analysis. It is treated locally because nature tries to drive it out of the system. But nature must have help. Nasal catarrh is merely an outlet, and it is folly to expect a cure by inhalants or local applications. If a stream is polluted at its source it is ridiculous to waste time in purification at its mouth.

By a long series of elaborate experiments at the Swift Laboratory it is definitely known that catarrh can be cured by the simple process of inoculating the blood with antidotal remedies that stop inflammatory conditions throughout the mucous linings of all the organs of the body. This is done with the famous Swift's Sure Specific, or as it is widely known, S. S. S. It is taken into the blood just as naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, enables all mucous surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all catarrhal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure blood making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification.

JAIL WAS PROOF AGAINST ESCAPE

War Department Decides to Abandon Famous Old Prison

OF PACIFIC COAST

San Francisco, April 14.—Alcatraz island, on which is situated the great military prison of the Pacific coast, and the white granite buildings of which form the most conspicuous landmark in San Francisco bay, is to be abandoned as an army prison and will be turned over to the department of justice for use as a federal penitentiary for civilian offenders and will be conducted as is the McNeil Island penitentiary, in Puget sound, near Tacoma.

All military convicts now confined at Alcatraz will be sent to the Presidio of San Francisco and other posts, and kept in prison buildings that soon will be constructed. It is understood that the war department will turn Alcatraz over to the department of justice within a month, although it probably will be several months before the military convicts there can be shifted to other posts. The bulk of the prisoners on the island, it is understood, will be cared for at the Presidio, and hereafter soldiers convicted of offences against the military law will be confined at the posts to which they have been attached.

None Ever Escaped.

Alcatraz, commonly called "The Rock" throughout the army, holds the unique distinction of being the one prison from which no man has been known to escape alive. The rugged, lonely, rocky island is not touched at by any vessel save a government tug. The tidal currents that sweep around it make it impossible for a prisoner to swim to the mainland, even if he could make his escape from the heavily barred prison buildings, and the searchlights that play around the island continuously at night or in foggy weather render it impossible for any craft to land on "The Rock" unobserved.

Col. Robert C. Van Vliet, U. S. A., is commandant at Alcatraz, and he has under him as prison guards a large detachment of general service infantry. These soldiers will be transferred to the different posts where the military convicts later will be kept, and continue their work as guards.

There are now 400 prisoners on Alcatraz and there are accommodations for more than 600. The prison is modern in every respect. There are 600 cells, arranged in compact blocks, two tiers in height. The cells are fitted with electric lights, sanitary fixtures and ample ventilation. There is a shower room containing 200 baths; a library, barber shop, bakery, laundry, tailor shop, storeroom, auditorium and messroom. The prison buildings are new, the last of them having been completed fourteen months ago. The jail building is the last word in construction along these lines. Situated in the center of the twenty-acre rock, every cell is well lighted and as comfortable as it is possible for a cell to be.

McNeil Island Crowded.

McNeil Island, on which is now situated the only federal penitentiary on the Pacific coast, is said to be badly overcrowded at the present time. Practically all men convicted of crime in federal courts are now sent there, when the convictions occur in the west. All convicts from Alaska find a home at McNeil Island while they are serving their sentences. The turning over of Alcatraz to the department of justice will greatly simplify the handling of federal convicts convicted in the west.

It is argued that Alcatraz will be of far more value as a federal penitentiary than it is as a military prison. The major part of the military convicts there are not desperate men in any sense of the word. Their offences have been against military law, and some of them in civil life would be classified only as misdemeanors. They readily can be cared for in regular army posts and the cost of caring for them on "The Rock" will be saved to the war department. The move is said to be along the line of the policy of retrenchment the war department now is pursuing.

Special Deputy Sheriff Makes Investigation and Then Begins War.

ON YOUNG SMOKERS

New York, April 14.—"If I had threatened, the result would in all probability have been nil, but I pursued the route of kindness, and the result is satisfactory and encouraging." In this manner George C. Zamory of 700 East 163d street, special deputy sheriff, described his method of warfare against cigarette smoking among school children.

"A great many reforms are needed in the city," said Mr. Zamory, "but it strikes me that if the generation that is growing up is instructed to do the right thing there will be less immorality for the municipality to cope with in the future. There is not the slightest doubt that the cigarette evil is one of the greatest menaces to children. Smoking leads to standing around. That means idleness, idleness means mischief, and mischief means crime. And all from a cigarette.

"To demonstrate the effect of cigaretta smoking among school children I will cite a recent case. I noticed that the boys of public school No. 39, that is, a great many of them, were smokers. They ranged in age from seven to fourteen years. I began an investigation into the health statistics and the attendance average in the school. I was informed that on February 8 of the eighteen hundred pupils there were five hundred truants.

"Intuitively I knew that cigarettes were playing a big part in these truant cases, and I began a campaign to eliminate the evil as far as possible. First I saw the boys individually, and after assuring them that I merely wanted to benefit them I talked to them kindly and explained that they were harming themselves.

"At first the store dealers were inclined to be antagonnstic, but when I explained to them that there was a fine of $20 attached to the sale of cigarettes to minors they began to see it the way I did, and I had them sign papers promising that they would stop these sales. There were fourteen of these stores at first and now none of the fourteen will sell to children.

"On March 12, five weeks after I began the crusade, there were but two cases of truancy in the school where there had been five hundred. The fact that I fought truancy through eliminating the cigarette with such a result proved conclusively to me that tobacco was a greater evil among the school children than I had at first thought.

"The boys received a small amount of money from their parents to purchase lunch, but instead they bought cigarettes and candy. Lack of nourishment is responsible for the percentage of sickness, when if the cigarette money was spent for food this percentage would be eliminated."

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, April 14.—Continued good weather depressed wheat prices today. Lower Liverpool cables also helped the downward trend. Excellent crop outlook reports added to bear sentiment. Opening figures were ¾@⅞c to ⅞c lower. May was a shade to ⅝@⅞c lower at 90¾@90⅞c to 90⅞@91c. A drop to 90½c quickly followed.

The close was nervous, with May at 90⅝@90¾c, a net loss of ¼@⅝c.

Generally clear and mild weather caused a dip in corn prices. Cash demand was moderate. May opened ⅛c to ¼@⅜c lower at 55½@55⅝c to 55½c and went down to 55⅜c.

The close was easy, with May at 55⅛c, a net loss of ⅛c.

Oats followed other grains downward. May started unchanged to ⅛c lower at 34⅜c to 35c and eased off to 34½c.

Provisions were higher, good buying of lard lending strength to almost the entire list. First figures were unchanged to 5c higher, with May quotations showing $19.97½ for pork, $10.97½ for lard and $11.35 for ribs.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 14.—The New York exchange did not open until noon today on account of the funeral of J. Pierpont Morgan.

Prices moved irregularly when the stock market opened today two hours after the usual time. There was active selling of Reading and Steel, which were heavy. Amalgamated, Canadian Pacific and Smelting were fractionally higher. Union Pacific opened at Saturday's closing price, but shaded off on the first few transactions.

The market closed heavy. It was asserted that calling of loans by banks in which certain industrial collateral figures was responsible for the weakness of various specialties.

Prices gravitated toward a lower level throughout the final hour. Offerings were light, but the absorptive capacity of the market was not sufficient to take stocks without concessions.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

TUBERCULOSIS

Executive board of the Anti-Tuberculosis society will meet at the Commercial club, Tuesday afternoon, April 15, at 4:30. Important.

law prosecution of farmers, co-operative organizations or labor unions, the sundry civil appropriation bill was reintroduced today from the floor of the house. Former President Taft vetoed the bill in the last hours of his office because of that provision which he characterized as "class legislation of most vicious sort." The bill also carries appropriations for various branches of the government totalling $116,000,000. While not willing to make any formal announcement of his views, President Wilson let some of his callers know today that he would not object to the passage of the bill in the same form as President Taft vetoed it.

Thwart Effort to Print.

Representative Willis, republican, today asked the house to print in the congressional record a published letter by Wm. R. Hearst, condemning President Wilson's personal appearance before congress in joint session on April 8 to read his address. Several democrats sprang to their feet and objected and the letter was not received.

"We'll get it in later all right," answered Republican Leader Mann, shaking a finger at the democratic side of the house.

represented and forty-eight state regents are present.

The delegates, when they gathered, looked forward to the address of President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. A farewell reception tonight to Mrs. Scott, the president-general, was scheduled to close the program for the first day.

Welcomed by Wilson.

President Wilson in his first public speech since his inauguration welcomed the daughters. The president declared that the D. A. R. had been organized to maintain the tradition of the revolution—a struggle devoted entirely to the establishment of human liberty. The American people had cut away at that time from privilege, he said.

POPE AGAIN SHOWS RALLY

last extremity until Cardinal Merry de Val reassured them.

During the night the pope's temperature gradually decreased until it went down to 98 degrees.

Long and Minute Examination.

Prof. Ettore Marchiafava again submitted the pontiff to a long and minute examnation today. He gave especial attention to the condition of the heart and the aorta. He was satisfied that the bronchial inflammation on the left side had not increased.

The pope's temperature decreased at 1 o'clock today to 98 degrees. The disappearance of fever is interpreted as a sign that there is no more fear of pneumonia.

At 1:15 p. m. Prof. Ettore Marchiafava on leaving the pope's apartment after examining him said:

"I now trust that the pope's illness will have a favorable season, if it is possible to induce the patient to take proper care of himself."

Although the pope rested quietly during the forenoon, the physicians were somewhat concerned about his increasing weakness. His heart, however, showed no symptoms of valvular lesion this morning. The pontiff took little notice of those around him. For the most part he remained silent and passive.

Rome Is Tranquil.

Dr. Amici visited the pope twice after the departure of Prof. Marchiafava this morning. Prof. Marchiafava is to see the pope again tonight. Rome is taking the pope's illness with outward tranquility. There is a widespread conviction that if the end is approaching it will not come for some days at least. The churches are not unusually crowded, but all who visit them pray fervently for the head of the church. The weather is rainy most of the time.

Ordinary tourists are still allowed to visit some of the galleries of the vatican. Carriages drive up frequently conveying cardinals, ambassadors and high prelates to inquire about the pope's condition and to read the latest bulletins and hopes to catch a word with one of the doctors. The physicians have become very clever in eluding would-be interviewers. They enter sometimes by one door and sometimes by another and there is an infinite number of entrances.

BLANKET OF 5,000 ROSES

Jesus" and "Lead Kindly Light," favorite hymns of Mr. Morgan, were sung by the choir; "Calvary" was sung as a solo by Harry Burleigh, the baritone of St. George's. As the funeral party left the church, the choir sang the recessional, "For All Thy Saints Who From Their Labors Rest."

MEMORIAL IN LONDON.

Services for Dead Financier Held in Westminster Abbey.

London, April 14.—A cosmopolitan congregation attended memorial services for the late J. Pierpont Morgan in Westminster Abbey today. King George was represented by Captain Sir Walter Campbell, groom in waiting, and Queen Mother Alexandra by the Honorable John Ward, equerry to the king.

Official, diplomatic, financial, art and church circles were present in force and large numbers of Americans, both resident and transit, attended.

The dean of Westminster officiated, assisted by a number of clergy. At the conclusion Sir Frederick Bridge played the "Dead march" on the great organ, the whole congregation meanwhile standing.

The chief mourners were distant relatives of the late J. Pierpont Morgan and representatives of his London banking house.

HALTS FIFTEEN MINUTES.

Chicago, April 14.—As a mark of respect to the memory of J. Pierpont Morgan the members of the Chicago stock exchange ceased business for fifteen minutes today during the hour of the funeral services for the financier.

BURIAL AT HARTFORD.

Morgan's Remains Laid at Rest in Family Lot in Cedar Hill.

Hartford, Conn., April 14.—The body of J. Pierpont Morgan was laid at rest this afternoon in the family lot in Cedar Hill cemetery. The funeral train with the casket reached Hartford soon after 2 o'clock. The cortege passed along Asylum street, past the financier's birth place, which was draped in black, down Main street, where stands the memorial erected by Mr. Morgan to his father, who was born one hundred years ago today. Practically the whole distance of three miles to the cemetery the streets were lined with people.

MOOSE MEMORIAL WELL ATTENDED

Tribute Paid to Dead, and Living Urged to Co-operate in Fraternalism.

HON. A. H. JONES TALKS

A large audience attended the annual memorial services of the Fort Wayne lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Majestic theater. Hon. Arthur H. Jones, of Indianapolis, past supreme dictator of the Moose delivered the principal memorial address, and the individual eulogies were presented by City Attorney Harry G. Hogan.

Mr. Jones in his address declared that great things can be accomplished through fraternalism and said that more interest should be manifested in the movement to teach morality in the public schools. After paying an appropriate tribute to deceased members, Mr. Jones dwelt for some time on the subject of fraternalism, especially the sort that is set forth by the Moose.

The services were opened by invocation by Rev. H. C. Hadley, pastor of Christ's Lutheran church. During the past year five members of the local lodge passed away. They were: Martin A. Hildinger, July 12, 1912; Henry Emrich, September 8, 1912; Frank Speidel, October 16, 1912; Joseph Miller, November 14, 1912; C. J. Syndran, December 14, 1912.

METEOR EXPLODES AT SEA.

Gives Passengers on Steamship a Bad Fright.

Boston, April 14.—A meteor which passed over the vessel and exploded only a short distance alarmed passengers on the Leyland liner Bohemia, which arrived here from Liverpool, after towing the disabled British steamer Cayo Romano to Halifax.

The meteor appeared on the steamer's port side in a heavy hailstorm and crossed her bow at great speed. It exploded with a deafening report and blinding glare when apparently about forty feet from the surface of the ocean.

Passengers said that they had difficulty in hearing for about ten minutes afterward. The lookout in the crow's nest on the foremast was frightened, as it seemed to him that the meteor passed very near. When the explosion occurred the flash lighted all parts of the steamer.
